WALSH RETIRES FROM BOURBON RACE

Fate Of Americans In Chinese Trouble Area Unknown

EVACUATION OF TSINAN UNDER WAY

Many Foreigners Murdered By Looting Nationalists In Safety Zone of City

JAP CONSUL MISSING

Tokio Orders Fresh Troops To Battle Front; Canton Casualties Number 800

(By United Press)

SHANGHAI, May 4.—The battle between the Japanese and Chinese troops at Tsinan ended at 6 a. m., today, when General Chiang Kai-Shek recalled his Chinese troops, according to Japanese wireless reports.

Many foreign civilians were murdered, the reports said. Details were lacking.

Although evacuation is under way, there were several Americans still in Tsinan quarters, but the American consul general here has not yet been advised of their fate.

The reports here said that Japanese forces had repelled the Nationalist army during Thursday night and that somewhat of a calm had prevailed.

Looters Enter City

Later, however, the report said, the looters succeeded in entering the safety zone of the city. This was reserved for the foreigners who had remained in Tsinan.

The murders followed and there was a general looting of the safety zone.

The Japanese legation here received radio dispatches from Tsinan stating that the trouble between the Japanese and Chinese started when Nationalist soldiers, commanded by General Chiang Kai-Shek, looted many Japanese shops and residences.

Three thousand Japanese soldiers were said to have defended against the looting.

The Japanese consul, who visited

$203,000,000 Tax Bill Attacked By Senator Harrison

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The $203,000,000 tax reduction bill, favorably reported by the finance committee and approved by the administraton, was attacked in the senate today by Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi.

He charged the treasury department is keeping tax reduction to a minimum by underestimating future returns in an effort to retire the national debt more rapidly than conditions warrant.

The object is to remove a strong argument against cancellation of foreign debts and so increase the value of foreign bonds held by Wall street interests, he said.

For the last six years the treasury department has underestimated its future surpluses from $100,000,000 to $600,000,000, Harrison said.

HOUSE UNABLE TO PASS FARM BILL OVER VETO

Adoption Vote Insufficient To Insure Over-riding Expected Refusal

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, May 4.—While incidental objections have been removed from the McNary farm relief measure, President Coolidge feels the more important objections, which induced his veto of the measure last year, have not been met, it was made known at the White House today.

BY THOMAS L. STOKES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The McNary-Haugen farm relief bill supporters failed to secure the two-thirds majority in the house which is necessary to over-ride a veto by President Coolidge, now regarded as inevitable since the equalization fee remains in the measure.

The vote on passage of the measure last night, 204 to 121, indicates very clearly the house could not pass the measure over a veto. Two-thirds in each body is required for passage over a veto. The senate farm bloc marshalled the two-thirds when it approved the bill a few weeks ago.

The measure now goes to conference to adjust minor differences in form as passed by house and senate. It should be in President Coolidge's hands early next week.

100 Members Fail to Vote

It was significant that 100 members did not vote last night. The absentee vote must be taken into consideration in forecasting probable action in case of a veto.

The house passed the bill in the last congress by a vote of 214 to 178, only 42 members failing to vote at that time. The vote for

Young Slayer Of Salesman Forfeits Life

Willard Shannon Hanged at Folsom; Protests Innocence to End

(By United Press)

FOLSOM PRISON, Calif., May 4.—Willard Shannon, 24-year-old murderer of Harold Lage, Stockton automobile salesman, was hanged today at 10:02 a. m.

The prisoner entered the death chamber shortly after 10 a. m. Approximately 35 witnesses, including sheriffs, deputies, newspapermen and prison guards, were present.

The trap was sprung at 10:02 a. m. Nine minutes and 50 seconds later the prison physician announced the man was dead.

Protests Innocence

Shannon protested his innocence to the last. He appeared pale, but had no appearance of collapse as he began the march from his cell to the death chamber.

Warden Court Smith, who was officating at his first hanging, seemed almost as nervous as the condemned man as the two shook hands.

"Goodbye, Shannon," said the warden. "Good luck to you."

"Goodbye, Warden," was the reply. "I'm ready to go."

The tiny gallows chamber was tightly packed with spectators as the death party entered. The morning sun shone through the windows. Outside a meadowlark sang.

Shannon mounted the 13 steps to the scaffold and stood, swaying slightly, while the guards quickly adjusted the black cap over his head and strapped his legs together. The noose then was adjusted.

Death Instantaneous

Warden Smith gave a prearranged signal to the executioner. The trap was sprung and the body plunged to the end of the rope. Death was virtually instantaneous.

The crime of which Shannon was convicted was considered the most brutal in Amandor county history. Posing as the manager of a large mine and a prospective purchaser of an automobile, he lured his victim to the hills of the mining county, where, in a secluded spot, he shot and killed Lage and drove away with an expensive machine. The murder occurred on Dec. 31, 1926.

DISCOVERS DRINKING PARTY IN HER HOME

HOLLYWOOD, May 4.—Seven persons, some of them prominent in motion pictures, were engaged in a wild drinking orgy in her Laurel Canyon home when she entered last night, Fritzi Ridgeway, actress, reported to police today.

Miss Ridgeway declared she recognized several of the group and said she would ask criminal complaints against them.

Paper To Bare Congress Drys Who Get Drunk

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The Washington Daily News announced editorially today it proposes henceforth "to publish as news the appearance on duty of any so-called dry member of the house or senate in an obviously intoxicated condition."

The decision was made "to put a end to such hypocrisy," according to the News, a Scripps-Howard newspaper.

"The spectacle of a senator or representative, under the influence of liquor, undertaking publicly to discuss affairs of state always is disguisting," the editorial says.

"When such a senator or representative is one who consistently votes for prohibition, the hypocrisy and rank abuse of special privilege make the spectacle intolerable."

LETTER DENIES UTILITIES PAID IRVIN LENROOT

$20,000 Went to Law Firm, Engaged by Committee, Partner Says

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, May 4.—A letter denying that former Senator Irvin L. Lenroot, of Wisconsin, received $20,000 from utilities interests for fighting the Walsh utilities investigation resolution, was entered on the record today in the federal trade commission's utilities inquiry.

Payment of $20,000 to Lenroot was reported in testimony recently given by Ira L. Grimshaw, of the joint committee of National Utilities' associations. Grimshaw said Lenroot was engaged as counsel to oppose the Walsh resolution, which called for a senate investigation of the power industry.

In the letter, Elisha Hanson, Lenroot's law partner, said the joint committee engaged the firm of Lenroot, Hanson, Smith and Lovett and did not deal with Lenroot individually. He said the checks, though made out to Lenroot personally, were turned by him into the firm's accounts.

The commission admitted into evidence a letter from Richard Washburn Child, former ambassador to Italy, who was shown in the joint committee's records to having received $7500 for having written a book on Boulder dam.

Child explained he had received

28 Hours On 1160-Mile Hop From Germany

Will Refuel and Continue To Spitzbergen, Base Of Explorations

BULLETIN

VADSOE, Norway, May 4.—The dirigible "Italia" was refueled and inflated late today as if for an early start for Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, despite bad weather conditions on her route.

VADSOE, Norway, May 4.—The second part of a great air cruise that will take the dirigble "Italia" to the north polar area was completed today when Com. Umberto Nobile brought his charge to Vadsoe.

He had fought severe head winds for several hours and once the course had been lost, but steadily the dirigible sailed through the night and appeared over Vadsoe only a few minutes after the time the Italian pilot had set for his arrival.

It was shortly after 7 a. m., that the vessel circled the city and at 7:30 a. m., it was moored at the mast.

The dirigible will be refueled and proceed to Kings Bay, Spitsbergen, the base for Nobile's polar expedition of exploration, when the weather permits.

1160-Mile Flight

The "Italia" left Stolp, Germany, at 3:25 a. m., Thursday, and proceded on a direct course to this city, on the northern extremity of Norway. The distance between the two points by airline is 1160 miles.

Through Thursday the vessel proceeded at a good speed. Flying conditions were reported perfect. But with the night, Nobile apparently encountered difficulties.

Reports to Copenhagen from Helsingfors said that at 6:30 p. m., the "Italia" reported it had lost its bearings.

Flood Bill Fails To Meet Views Of Nation's Executive

WASHINGTON, May 4.—President Coolidge was represented today as feeling that little has been done to meet his views on proposed flood control legislation. It is known that the president had expected to confer with the flood control conferees with the view to having eliminated objectionable provisions. The conferees, however, rushed through their program affording the president slight opportunity to express his views, it was said.

BRITISH VESSEL FOUNDERING AFTER HAVING SUNK GREEK SHIP IN CHANNEL COLLISION

(By United Press)

LONDON, May 4.—The British naval supply ship Bacchus was reported to be sinking off the south coastline late today, after having sunk, in a collision, the Greek steamer Ioannis Fafalios.

The Greek ship, of 3122 tons, sank rapidly. Some of her crew of 22 were thrown into the water. All were reported saved by the Bacchus.

The navy ship proceeded from the vicinity of St. Albans Head, Dorsetshire, the scene of the collision, toward Portsmouth dockyard.

Reports soon reached the admiralty that she was taking in water by the bows, damaged when she struck the Ioannis Fafalios. Late reports, as yet unverified absolutely, were that the Bacchus had been abandoned by her crew and was sinking.

The admiralty ordered the battle cruiser Tiger and two Portland salvage tugs to proceed to the Bacchus' assistance.

G.M.C. Reaches 204 In Wild Market Session

NEW YORK, May 4.—Wall street returned to its feverish bull activity today after a protracted lull and another 4,000,000 share day was recorded.

Led by General Motors, which reached a new high record at 204 3-4, up 8 1-4 points, a long list of stocks joined in the upward movement.

Total sales of shares were 4,440,000.

The buoyancy was attributed in part to continuance of the local bank rate at 4 per cent and relatively small increases reported in brokerage loan. A. T. & T., American Can and Chrysler all reached new high levels.

HAYS VICTOR IN FRENCH CINEMA CONTROL FIGHT

Seven to One Film Ratio Is Principal Feature of New Agreement

(By United Press)

PARIS, May 4.—Minister of Public Instruction Herriot announced today that complete agreement had been reached by Will Hays, American motion picture executive, and the French cinema commission regarding enforcement of the new film control decree.

Hays had announced last night that the commission had agreed to permit seven American feature films to be shown in France for every French film bought—but not necessarily exhibited—in the United States. Previously a four to one ratio had been planned.

Hays and Herriot jointly let it be known today that the main feature of the agreement reached was the seven to one ratio.

Hays won the concession from the commission here after 12 hours of almost continuous negotiation that ended at 10 p. m., yesterday. He supplemented this by conferences with American

HICKMAN APPEAL PLACED ON FILE

LOS ANGELES, May 4—The brief appealing to the state supreme court for reversal of the conviction of William Edward Hickman, murderer of Marion Parker, was on file here today.

The 65,000-word document dealt, for the most part, with the constitutionality of the new statute which permitted Hickman to plead "not guilty by reason of insanity." However, asserted trial errors were included in the 17 points set forth in the brief.

State attorneys are scheduled to file answering briefs in Sacramento Monday and the case is to be argued there Tuesday. Decision by the supreme court is expected by May 20.

Admiral Robinson Appointed Chief Of Navy Academy

WASHINGTON, May 4 — Rear Adm. S. S. Robinson, former commander of the U. S. fleet, has been appointed superintendent of the U. S. naval academy at Annapolis, Md., Secretary Wilbur announced today.

Robinson, now commandant of the 13th naval district, will assume his duties in June, when Rear Adm. L. M. Nulton, present superintendent, is scheduled for sea duty.

Grounded Steamer Steelmaker Refloated

TUTUILA, Samoa, May 4.—The steamer Steelmaker, grounded off shore near Mitchell Island of the Ellice group, was refloated today after leaks in the hull were plugged and probably will proceed under her own power to Pago Pago.

The freighter, one of the vessels of the American Steel Products company, under the flag of the Isthmian line, went aground on March 28. It finally was released by the Los Angeles tug Peacock.

COMPLETE JURY TO TRY BISHOP BAST

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 4.—A jury of 17 churchmen was selected here today to try the case of Bishop Anton Bast, Copenhagen, on charges of misapplication of church funds and imprudent conduct.

Chairman of standing committees of the Methodist Episcopal general conference made the selection at their morning session.

Presentation of arguments and evidence is expected to start late today.

Bishop Francis J. McConnell, of Pittsburgh, was selected as presiding judge.

A majority of the trial committee is necessary for a verdict. Eleven members of the jury constitute a quorum.

Charges against Bishop Bast originated in the handling of the funds of a Methodist mission, in Copenhagen, Denmark.

DEMOCRATS WANT SMITH, SAYS SOLON

Senator Makes Statement In Letter to McDowell, Montana Party Leader

NO HOPE OF SUCCESS

Result of California Primary Brings Decision to Withdraw from Contest

BY PAUL MALLON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May. 4.—Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, announced today that he was "impelled by the logic of events to request that no further effort be made in Montana or elsewhere to promote my nomination."

Walsh made his statement in a letter to W. W. McDowell, Montana, Democratic leader, and Walsh supporter, now in New York.

Walsh stated that the California primary result "quite clearly indicates that the Democrats desire Governor Smith as their candidate."

No Hope of Success

Other states can be expected to follow California's action in indorsing Smith and there is now no chance of a successful termination of his (Walsh's) candidacy, Walsh told McDowell.

McDowell is expected to communicate the letter to Montana Democrats, who meet in convention May 8 to select delegates to the Houston convention.

In view of Walsh's retirement, the Montana delegation is expected to be instructed for Smith in accordance with the wishes of Bruce Kramer, Democratic national committeeman from Montana.

The letter to McDowell was as follows:

PRESIDENT HOPEFUL OF DAM LEGISLATION

WASHINGTON, May 4.—President Coolidge was represented today as hopeful that congress will pass Boulder dam legislation.

He is anxious for this legislation not only as important to flood control but also as a means of supplying Southern California with better domestic water.

The power development involved in the Boulder dam project, the president believes, is incidental, and he feels that this condition should not stand in the way of legislation.

He feels a solution can be reached to meet the objections of those opposed to governmental power development and operation.

CAMPAIGN LOG

(By United Press)

The campaign investigation committee of the Senate has sent invitations to 14 possible presidential candidates asking them to signify a date when they will be able to testify regarding their expenditures. The committee hopes to start sessions Monday.

The Arkansas State Republican convention voted against instructing delegations to the national convention. It had been proposed that the delegation be instructed for Frank O. Lowden.

Rumors were current in Washington that friends of Governor Smith of New York had made overtures to Rep. Cordell Hull of Tennessee to have him become a candidate for vice president on the same ticket with Smith.

Political observers in Washington believe it likely that Sen. Thomas D. Walsh of Montana will withdraw as a Democratic candidate for the presidential nomination after his defeat in the California primary.

William H. Hill, manager of the Hoover Eastern campaign, said that if the commerce secretary received the endorsement of Indiana Republicans at the forthcoming primary his nomination as the Republican presidential candidate on the first ballot would be assured.

A spokesman for Tammany Hall said the organization probably would be willing to accept a plank in the Democratic platform calling for law enforcement in connection with prohibition for the sake of party harmony.

Richard L. Metcalfe, keynote speaker for the Nebraska Democratic convention, said that the Democratic presidential nominee had been chosen and "his name is Gov. Alfred E. Smith." He suggests Gilbert M. Hitchcock, the Nebraska favorite son, as a running mate for Governor Smith.

the Aswell substitute, however, is a better index than the vote on passage. A total of 146 members went on record for this substitute, which was a direct vote against the equalization fee, since it eliminated the fee provisions.

There were 186 votes against the Aswell substitute.

Vote Down Amendments

The farm bloc recovered from its defeat Wednesday when the equalization fee was voted out of the bill, and all day yesterday voted down with machine-line precision all amendments except two which sponsors of the measure accepted.

One of these, supported by the cotton bloc, would prevent operation of the equalization fee upon any commodity without approval of the commodity council, and the other would assess the same fee upon stocks held by the packers as well as that on live stock marketed.

Hays met the French commissioners again this morning. They soon agreed to eliminate a provision that limitation of films should be retroactive—which would have meant that many films now in France waiting to be shown could not have been exhibited—and decided that French distributors of foreign films should be permitted to distribute 60 per cent as many foreign films during 1928 as were distributed in 1927, when there was no restriction.

Hays, cheered by his sudden victory after a hard fight, plans to sail for home on the liner Berengaria tomorrow.

MAY APPEAL FRUIT RAIL RATE DECISION

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—An appeal to the U. S. supreme court was expected today as the result of an opinion by a special federal court here, sustaining a ruling of the interstate commerce commission, reducing eastward deciduous fruit freights approximately 8 per cent.

Four hundred and fifty railroads are affected by the ruling, which reduces the basic rate from $1.73 to $1.63. They expect to appeal.

MERCHANT MARINE MEASURE TAKEN UP

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The house began consideration today of the White merchant marine bill for liberalizing present laws to aid private American ship operators. There were prospects of final action tomorrow.

The White bill was presented by unanimous report of the house merchant marine committee as an amendment to the Jones bill, passed by the senate, and is much broader than the senate bill. Both reaffirm the policy or continued government operation with eventual transfer of the shipping board's merchant fleet to private hands.

THOMAS SETS NEW LONE FLIGHT MARK

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., May 4.—Almost 20 hours short of the record he had set out to break, Lt. Royal Thomas was forced to descend at 11:50 p.m., Thursday, after being in the air since 12:30 p.m., Wednesday.

A dump valve in the main gas tank had opened, causing the gasoline to seep out.

Thomas established one record. He broke the sustained record for solo flights, which Col. Charles A. Lindbergh had held at 33-1/2 hours. Thomas remained in the air about one and one-half hours more.

4-Year-Old Boy's World-Wide Tour Halted By Police

LOS ANGELES, May 4—It was 3 o'clock this morning when a youngster, about 4 years old, passed Police Officers T. K. Perry and W. V. Gorham at Avenue 62 and Pasadena avenue.

"Pretty late for a lad like that to be out alone," Gorham said.

"It's something for official investigation," Perry answered.

The boy told the officers that his name was Pat Bolton, that he lived "near here" and that he was on a world's tour.

The globe trotter was persuaded to postpone his trip and he was held at juvenile hall today until officials located his parents.

The father and mother said they left young Pat at home while they went to a party last night. Their return was delayed when they missed the last street car and were forced to walk.

Japan Moves Fresh Forces To Front

TOKIO, May 4.—Japan moved fresh forces and munitions toward Tsinan, China, today, after reports were received here of a clash between the Japanese expeditionary forces and troops of the Chinese Nationalist army.

Advices here said one Japanese soldier and one Japanese civilian had been killed in the fighting and one officer and 33 privates were wounded.

Chinese casualties were estimated at 800.

Evacuation Of Americans Expedited

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Evacuation of all Americans remaining in the region about Tsinan, China, scene of a serious clash between Nationalist and Japanese troops, is being expedited, Secretary of State Kellogg said today. The military situation in the neighborhood of Tsinan was described by Kellogg as "rather menacing." He said the state department did not know how many Americans still were in the section, but added that "we are getting them out as fast as we can."

Movement of 5000 Japanese troops into the heart of the Chinese war area to protect Japanese citizens is being watched "with peculiar interest" by American officials, a reliable quarter here declared today.

Will Continue Neutral

While the United States will continue neutral with respect both to the Chinese civil warfare and to the movement of Japanese soldiers, unless American lives or property are endangered, some fear was expressed over the consequences of clashes between the Japanese and Nationalist forces.

The Nationalists refused to comply with Tokio's demand that service on the Japanese-controlled Tsinan-Tsingtao railway be uninterrupted. This road runs from the principal port of Shantung province, in which most of the recent fighting has been taking place, to Tsinan, the capital of the province.

12,000 Japs Along Railway

Approximately 12,000 Japanese live along the railway, while a few coal mines and small factories in the section are Japanese-owned.

The Japanese may be expected to take stern measures to protect their people. In the relation such action would have to America's "open door" policy would be a matter of some concern to this government, it was said.

action in states that might be expected to send delegates to the convention out of harmony with his candidacy as to demonstrate to my mind the futility of advancing the claims of any other party leadership in the ensuing campaign.

"Whatever hopes may have been indulged in that in certain contingencies the Houston convention might deem it wise to make me its nominee, these can no longer reasonably be entertained.

Appreciative of Support

"While profoundly appreciative of the cordial manner in which my candidacy was dealt with at the last meeting of the state's central committee, I am impelled by the logic of events to request that no further effort be made in our state or elsewhere to promote my nomination by the election of delegates favorably disposed or by any other means.

"Hoping the decision here expressed may meet with your approval I am, with gratitude for your loyalty and devotion,

"Yours sincerely,
"T. J. Walsh."

William G. McAdoo, former candidate for the presidency and foe of Smith, conferred with Walsh shortly before Walsh's statement was made public.

Senator Reed, of Missouri, issued a statement later declaring he was in the race to a finish and expressing regret that Walsh had not retired "before he entered the California primary and muddied the waters."

"I shall go on with the contest," Reed said. "There is one great issue in this campaign which should appeal to the hearts and the consciences of the American people. The convention at Houston will at least have an opportunity to vote on it."

Washington Delegates For Hoover, Belief

YAKIMA, Wn., May 4.—It appeared certain today that Washington state will send 17 delegates to the Republican national convention pledged to Herbert Hoover.

The state Republican convention will be held here tomorrow. Delegates from all sections of Washington have arrived, a vast majority of them being Hoover supporters.

Eight Candidates Will Face Committee Monday

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Eight presidential candidates, now in Washington, will be called Monday before the senate campaign expenditures committee, Chairman Steiwer announced late today. He said he had already had six replies to his questionnaire to candidates.

sage said.

The vessel finally reached Gamla Karleby at 9 p. m., and again lost its bearings and flew north.

Later the dirigible was reported over Brahestad, again on the course.

Fights Fog, Winds

The dirigible was fighting a heavy fog and strong head winds, but was proceeding directly toward its port.

Then, shortly after 7 a. m., it appeared over Vadsoe.

Norwegian troops from the nearby garrison assisted in maneuvering the "Italia" to the mooring mast.

As soon as the big dirigible had landed safely, guns at the Norwegian frontier fortress at Kivnesun, which is opposite this city, boomed out a salute to the visiting aircraft.

Nobile descended from the "Italia" smiling and told the United Press:

"The journey was most satisfactory."

Storm Damages "Italia's" Hangar At Kings Bay

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, May 4.—A furious snowstorm last night damaged the hangar destined to house the Italian polar dirigible "Italia."

In consequence, the weather bureau has advised Gen. Umberto Nobile, her commander, to postpone his departure from Vadsoe, scheduled for 6 p. m., today.

Canvas Walls Torn

The canvas walls of the hangar were torn to ribbons. The road painstakingly built from the beach to the hangar, was destroyed.

The crew of General Nobile's supply ship Citta Di Milano, is working feverishly in an attempt to repair the damage.

Rains today, a strong wind south of Bears Islands and frost from the northward threaten danger of ice accumulations on the "Italia" if the flight is undertaken now.

When the dirigible does arrive, it will bring together two of the very select little group of men who have viewed the great north pole area.

Wilkins To Greet Nobile

Capt. George Wilkins, who only a few weeks ago flew over the area with Carl Eielson from Point Barrow, will be among the group to greet Commander Nobile's expedition.

Nobile, who flew over the polar area with Roald Amundsen and Lincoln Ellsworth two years ago, is returning here in the new dirigible preparatory to additional exploration flights.

A WORD OF COMFORT

Commonplace experiences make up most of life. Only the man who has accustomed himself to think of God in relationship to the ordinary happenings, is ready to perceive His presence in the unusual and extraordinary events.

Thank God for your daily bread and for the other conveniences and comforts of life, for your health and for your strength to labor. In your darkest hour you will instinctively turn to Him for power to go on, and you will not seek in vain.

Cute in a Baby— Awful at Three —and it's Dangerous

by Ruth Brittain

Thumb sucking does look sweet in a baby, but it is disgusting in the three-year-old and sometimes it hangs on until fifteen or sixteen! The habits may cause an ill-formed mouth or induce adenoids; and it always interferes with digestion. Pinning the sleeve over the hand; attaching mittens, or putting on cardboard cuffs, which prevent bending the arms at the elbows, are some of the ways to stop the habit.

Another bad habit—irregularity in bowel action—is responsible for weak bowels and constipation in babies. Give the tiny bowels an opportunity to act at regular periods each day. If they don't act at first, a little Fletcher's Cascara will soon regulate them. Every mother should keep a bottle of it handy to use in case of colic, cholera, diarrhea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, loss of sleep, or when baby is cross and feverish. Its gentle influence over baby's system enables him to get full nourishment from his food, helps him gain, strengthens his bowels.

Castoria is purely vegetable and harmless—the recipe is on the wrapper. Physicians have prescribed it for over 30 years. With each package, you get a vauable book on Motherhood. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper so you'll get the genuine.—Adv.

COUNTY RIDING CLUB TO MEET AT HUFF RANCH

In line with the policy successfully followed during the past year the Orange County Riding club will hold another all-day session, on Sunday, May 13, this time meeting at the D. Eyman Huff ranch in the morning, and arranging their forenoon ride to get back to Hewes Park for a one o'clock barbecue dinner, which is to feature the day's meet.

Members of the club who have been meeting regularly for these all-day rides and barbecues at various places in the county, have been looking forward to this occasion with keen interest, as it is the first time this year that they will saddle up at the Huff ranch.

Horse-lovers from all sections of the county will be joined by prominent invited citizens in welcoming distinguished guests from Los Angeles and other centers where a revival of horsemanship is said to be rapidly displacing other forms of outdoor social activity.

From the Ole Hanson stables at San Clemente in the south end of the county, to the Ed. Gaines ranch in Carbon Canyon, horses and riders will arrive at the ranch early in the morning, others driving to Hewes Park, where the barbecue feast and mid-day gathering will be held.

D. Eyman Huff, president of the club, has named the following to assist him in selecting the guest group and issuing invitations: Fred M. West, secretary of the club, D. N. Kelly, J. E. Seale, Alfred Bayless, Alonzo Yorba, John Wagner, Juan Fuentes, Ed. Gaines and Frank Mason.

REUTER BRINGS SUIT AGAINST BAKING CO.

Herman A. Reuter, Fullerton newspaper man, launched a $10,000 damage suit against the Weber Baking company today, alleging that one of its trucks struck a car i nwhich he was riding on February 4, resulting in cuts on his face and over his right eye.

The truck cut the corner on the Anaheim road in front of the Orange County hospital, and was coming down the left side of the highway when it struck a car driven by C. A. Rousseau, Santa Ana, with whom Reuter was a passenger, according to the complaint. The accident is said to have occurred at 6:45 a. m.

Rousseau's car was damaged to the extent of $750, the complaint stated. His alleged claim against the Weber Baking company has been assigned to Reuter, who asked a total of $10,845. C. D. Swanner, local attorney, represents the plaintiff.

PLEAD NOT GUILTY IN SUPERIOR COURT

George S. Johnston and J. B. Neel, officials of the Coast Industries, Inc., Laguna Beach, pleaded not guilty today to charges of conspiring the corporate securities act.

They were arraigned before Superior Judge James L. Allen on information which had been filed by Deputy District Attorney S. B. Kaufman.

The trial was set for July 9 at 9:30 a. m. Neel has applied for a writ of habeas corpus and his hearing is scheduled to be held tomorrow before Superior Judge Homer G. Ames. Neel claims that the evidence produced at the preliminary hearing was not sufficient to warrant his being held to answer to the superior court.

The cases against the two men followed the launching of a number of civil suits in which it was charged that the Coast Industries, Inc., had issued stock without a permit from the corporation commissioner of California.

An Oxylair Beauty Specialist at the store to advise you on the correct lotion or cream for you.

Then There Is the BIG REASON

PROOF OF OXYLAIR COSMETICS RADIO-ACTIVITY

Put key and coin on photograph plate. Over them put full jar of OXYLAIR cream and

HERE IS THE RESULT after 36 hours, in light-proof box. The RADIO-ACTIVITY OF OXYLAIR cream exposes the plate JUST LIKE SUN LIGHT and makes a silhouette of the key and coin Note the plate is exposed only where the jar of cream was placed

This demonstrates why Oxylair creams and lotions are a real SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY IN BEAUTY CULTURE. The Radio-Activity which exposes photograph plates like sunlight PENETRATES BELOW THE SKIN and GIVES LIFE AND VIGOR TO THE CELLS. It is "The Breath of Youth."

Oxylair preparations aside from the Radio-Activity are marvelous products. They contain only the finest of oils, have perfect texture, and are delicately perfumed with imported odors. Without the wonder worker, Radio-Activity, they compare favorably with the most expensive preparations on the market.

DIRECTORS OF ORANGE COUNTY FAIR GATHER

Members of the official family of the Orange County fair met for dinner at the dining hall of the association last evening at 7 o'clock and definite plans for this season's premier event were carefully planned.

H. A. Lake, of Garden Grove, president of the fair association, in welcoming the directors and some 30 department heads, along with officials of the California Publishers' association who will aid in the publicity for the fair this season, stated that advance preparations indicated the greatest exposition which this county had ever presented.

"We have been working quietly and carefully in our preparations for the coming show and our efforts are being rewarded daily," Lake said. "I feel that we have the best working organization which this association has ever had and that the people of this community will be well pleased with our efforts to make the Orange County fair bigger and better."

"In due recognition of the splendid co-operation being given this association by the Orange County Nurserymen's association," said George Kellogg, superintendent of the agricultural department, "this year's motif in the decorations of the feature tent will be the Garden Beautiful."

According to Kellogg and P. G. Allen, well known decorator from Hollywood, who also attended the meeting, wonderful possibilities are afforded in the selection of this motif.

It is probable that a change may be made in the afternoon and evening programs, according to announcement made by Secretary-Manager J. R. Hunt in commenting on the entertainment features of the fair. It is proposed, according to Hunt, to have three afternoon and three evening rodeo programs. Committee Director Frank Purinton in charge of this department, is enthusiastic for the night rodeo, pointing out the fact that a great many of the patrons of the fair would like to see the wonderful show produced by the Baker Ranch company, but were unable to attend the afternoon performances. It is suggested that for the three remaining afternoons that running races, free acts and horse show features might be introduced for the edification of those attending.

Every department superintendent was enthusiastic in his progress report and stated that his department would be far in advance of anything attempted in seasons past.

John Long, secretary of the California Publishers' association, stated that his organization was 100 per cent behind the fair and would assist in every way possible to see that the proper publicity was given to the exposition. Claude Potter, representative of the Orange County Council of the American Legion, pledged the 100 per cent support of the American Legion, stating that it might be possible for the Legion to produce one of the leading features of the fair this year. He said that plans are now being formulated and that an official announcement would be made at a later date.

The office of director, vacated by the resignation of Ray Frantz, of La Habra, was filled with the appointment of S. W. Miller, of Fullerton. Miller has long been an enthusiastic worker for the fair. Just what department Miller will direct is still undecided, although it is quite probable that his assignment will be made by the president at the next meeting of the board.

Among those present as guests of the association, aside from the department superintendents and directors, were Tobias Larsen, president of the California Publishers' association; Justus Craemer, of Orange; Henry Schmidt, of Buena Park, and John Long and Ray Davidson of Los Angeles.

West suffered a sudden attack of acute appendicitis at 5 p. m. yesterday while he was at the Elks club here. He drove to his home, 321 East Santa Clara avenue, and a few hours later an operation was pronounced necessary by physicians attending him.

Chief Deputy District Attorney L. W. Blodget will be in charge of West's office during his absence.

Dollar Bills Marked Down From $2.75 to $1.50

A New York Store ran an excellent advertisement the other day with the caption:

Very Handsome Dollar Bills
Were $2.75 Each
Now Only $1.50

and the first paragraph stated that if money were sold in stores no sensible person would buy a dollar bill for $1.50 simply because the storekeeper had once priced it $2.75.

This is exactly what we have tried to tell you about our No Sale Policy. We could, of course, mark our merchandise twice as high and later on mark it down to a normal price, but we don't do business that way. That would be selling you a Dollar Bill for $1.50, wouldn't it?

YANKEES BEGIN TO FIND GOLF STRIDE ABROAD

BY GENE SARAZEN
(Written for the United Press)

SANDWICH, Eng., May 4—The steady work of the American golfers here for the British Open championship is beginning to show results. Yesterday the American players had one of the best days they have had since they began practice here.

Walter Hagen's game is beginning to pick up and it may be too early to count him out of the running for the time. He shot a 70 and a 73 and looked far better than he has at any time since he set foot on British soil.

Hagen is toughening his hands, which bothered him in his match with Archie Compston. Hagen's long lay-off from the links allowed his hands to become tender, but he believes they will be in good shape for the opening of the tournament Monday.

The sensation of yesterday's play was a hole in one by Silas Newton, American amateur, who sank his tee shot on No. 16 hole, 160 yards, on the St. George's course.

Jim Barnes was hitting them well, turning in a 71 and a 72. Tommy Armour played only 18 holes, shooting a 70.

I have not been playing up to my best, but hope to get going better this week end and reach my peak in the tournament. I had a 72 and a 73 yesterday.

Court Notes

Alleged desertion had resulted today in a divorce complaint being lodged against Madge G. Hart by her husband, Charles R. Hart. Since their separation in 1924, she has refused to accept money for the support of herself and child, Hart alleged. They were married in 1919, according to the complaint.

Chester Hargadine started divorce action yesterday against Donnella Hargadine. He claimed that she deserted him in 1924. The complaint stated that they were married in 1919.

The Southern California Edison company today had failed to secure a judgment of $1610.36 from Lee R. Veo James Wood has been too cruel to his wife, Artie M. Wood, according to a divorce complaint filed today. R. L. Barnett pleaded not guilty today to a charge of non-support. His trial was set for May 31 at 9:30 a. m. Since the launching of the case, it is understood that Barnett has been supplying his family with its needs.

A divorce complaint in which Clarence E. Hall is accused of deserting Noma E. Hall was filed today. They were married in 1908 and separated in 1927.

BENCH WARRANT FOR L. A. GIRL IS ISSUED

Warrant for the arrest of Miss A. Jacobson, 139 Twentieth street, Los Angeles, for failure to appear in the Santa Ana police court on a speeding charge, was issued today by Judge J. F. Talbott.

The officers reported she "got hard" at the time of her arrest.

SPEEDING CASE IS CONTINUED WEEK

The evidence given in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning by Jessie B. Fiske, 18, 4816 Fountain avenue, Hollywood, regarding a speeding case for which she appeared, did not agree with that of Jimmy Cain, state traffic officer who made the arrest and the case was continued for one week, as Cain was not present.

Miss Fiske is charged with speeding 50 miles an hour, near Huntington Beach on April 27.

Application for transfer of the case to the Huntington Beach justice court was to have been made this afternoon in an effort to dodge a jail sentence.

$35,000 DAMAGES DEMANDED IN SUIT

The hood of a car driven by Melvin Curtis, Placentia, is alleged to have left its moorings last August and to have hurled itself into the windshield of a car piloted by Clarence S. Newell, Olinda, and today Newell had started a $35,000 damage suit against Curtis as a result.

W. M. Bradford, also of Placentia, is made a party to the case. The accident is alleged to have occurred on the Placentia road near Chapman avenue. Curtis and Bradford were testing the car after it had been in a garage and the hood was not clamped down when it suddenly took the air and landed athwart the Newell car, according to the complaint.

Mrs. Helen F. Newell suffered a crushed left hand and fingers, and received a six-inch gash in her head during the mixup(the complaint stated.

NOTED AUTHOR SEES DESERTED LAND IN NORTH

NEW YORK, May 4.—The traditional New Englander, typified by Calvin Coolidge, is dying out, according to Ben Ames Williams, author and interpreter of Maine life.

Unlike the old western frontiersmen who disappeared with the advance of modern civilization, the men of the far northeast are being pushed by nature herself from the land gained there, and the wilderness is repairing the damage done by man-made tools. One may drive mile after mile, said Williams, in an interview with the United Press, to see only deserted farms lapsing back into the forest stage, and stocked with moose and deer instead of the cattle that in former years grazed these pastures.

Perhaps no other writer in the country is able to speak so authoritatively on the subject as Ben Ames Williams. For years he has lived among New England people, in Massachusetts during the winter and in Maine in the summer. He has come to know the old fashioned Yankee with all the vices and virtues of his section. He explained the decline in the population chiefly by the fact that the isolation of the district has led to inbreeding with its consequent physical deterioration. The ordinary marriage takes place after the couple have reached middle age and very few children are produced, he said.

Taking as an example a town in central Maine which in the latter part of the last century had a population of about 2000, he said that today not more than 250 persons live there, of which 15 are children. This loss has not been caused by emigration but by death and the fact that there practically are no births. The last influx of new blood into this town occurred in 1812 when two British seamen deserted their ship and settled there. Their descendants still are considered newcomers.

Although best known to the reading public for his stories of Maine, Williams cannot be classed as an easterner. Born in Mississippi, reared in Ohio and educated at Dartmouth, his newspaper career took him to various parts of the country and gave him a breadth of view that makes sectionalism impossible for him. He dislikes the word "type" to be applied to any of his story characters. Every man is to him a human being, utterly different from all others, Henry Beeker, whose life is the subject of Williams' latest and finest novel, "Splendor," has been called by enthusiastic reviewers the "typical American." The author objects to this definition, however, saying that the Henry Beekers are as old as history and are confined to no country or class. Athens as well as Boston produced hundreds of kindly, plodding men who lived each day in the best way they knew, and attained neither success nor failure in a worldly sense.

Williams sees two forces at work in the life of the American business man—business interests and family or personal concerns. One must rank above the other in importance to the individual. Men recognized as eminent sucocesses must subordinate their private affairs to the press of professional demands, he thinks. Henry Beeker chose his family as the most engrossing fact of his life and to him the newspaper for which he worked served merely as a background. By such a decision he closed the door to professional success and his compensation was in the form of homely happiness.

The word "cereal" is derived from "Ceres," the name of the Roman goddess of corn and harvests.

BOYS WEEK IS OBSERVED AT LIONSMEETING

With George Munroe, Phil Hood and Hubert Dale repeating programs they had given at meetings this week of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, the Lions club yesterday made partial observance of boys' week.

The program was given over entirely to a special feature—singing and readings by members of the Orana Players. The entertainers from the playhouse at Orana were liberal with their offerings.

Miss Scott presided at the piano for all the singing numbers. Billy Evans opened the program with a group of character songs and was followed by Miss Green with vocal numbers. Herbert Shelly entertained with readings and Miss Lewis enlivened the program with a group of lively vocal selections, among them, "What Do You Mean By Love?" William Booth did his bit in some clever songs and Miss Lowery concluded the program with two vocal numbers.

Carson Smith presided as program chairman.

NEW BUILDING AND LOAN CO. TO OPEN HERE

The Southwest Building and Loan Association of Santa Ana will be added to the financial institutions of Santa Ana by June 15 and will be operating an office by that date, it was revealed today by Clyde Downing, attorney for the association, following an organization meeting held at his office last night.

Alex Brownridge, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants Savings bank, was chosen president of the association. Other officers are Dr. F. W. Slabaugh and Carl Mock, vice presidents; A. C. Hasenjaeger, secretary; C. E. Downie, treasurer; Clyde Downing, attorney.

Fifteen men compose the board of directors, the personnel being Brownridge, Slabaugh, Mock, Hasenjaeger, Downing, Downie, F. L. Purinton, E. B. Collier, J. J. Harrison, R. A. Emison, W. D. Rudd, W. H. Spurgeon, Ralph A. Mosher, H. H. Henshaw and E. E. Pratt.

The organization has an authorized capital of $500,000, and is fully subscribed, with the stock distributed among approximately 50 persons in this community.

It is an association of the guaranteed type, Downing pointed out, in explaining that it was expected that all legal matters would be arranged in time for the association to start operations on June 15. A location has not been procured, but a committee has been appointed to locate an office.

Downing said the association would be available for assisting home owners in financing their plans and he predicted rapid growth because of the opportunities here.

NEW BOOKS IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

It is a very fascinating pastime, this search for our ancestors; more interesting in Mary E. Boyle's "In Search of Our Ancestors," because she begins with present day knowledge and works backwards to the ages we know little about. Illustrated with colored plates, and told in a simple and direct way, this is an ideal introduction to prehistory for the lay reader.

"Marionettes, Masks and Shadows," by Winifred H. Mills and Louise M. Dunn, begins with the history of marionettes from ancient times to the present, and continues with directions for making the puppets, choosing the play, arranging the stage, etc. Then directions for making masks, and producing shadow plays are given in detail.

Would you like some original ideas for money-making affairs? Do you ever wonder for what purpose a certain spoon or fork is used? Or would the menus for delicious informal luncheons appeal to you? Then the book "How to Entertain at Home," just published by the Modern Priscilla company, would be just what you are seeking. Suggestions for showers, children's parties, bridge luncheons, wedding breakfasts and countless other social affairs, make this book invaluable to the housewife who entertains.

"The Women Lincoln Loved," by William E. Barton, author of the "Life of Abraham Lincoln," takes up the life of the Great Emancipator against the background of the various women who came into his life. These include his mother, Katy Roby, Ann Rutledge, Mary Owens, Polly Warnick and Mary Todd. The true character of Lincoln is shown in the influence these women had over him. Mr. Barton has done a great deal of research work to get the real facts, and his descriptions of Ann Rutledge and Mary Todd especially, are accurate, though slightly unpleasant.

Other new books at the library are:

"Come on Home," a book of poems by Douglas Malloch; "The Shower Book," by Emily Burt, a collection of original ideas for entertaining prospective brides; "Mind Your P's and Q's," a novel method of interpreting your character by your handwriting; "Strange Interlude," Eugene O'Neill's latest drama; "Tambo," by James Jenkins; "The First Americans 1607-1690," by J. T. Wertenbaker; "Reality," by B. H. Streeter; "American Greenhouse Construction," by R. T. Muller; "Prints for the Layman," Elizabeth Whitmore; "Business the Civilizer," by E. E. Calkins; "Henry Clay Frick, the Man," by George Harvey.

ORANGE COUNTY UNDERWRITERS HOLD MEETING

"Vanishing Fortunes," a new motion picture, was the feature of the regular meeting of the Orange County Life Underwriters association held last night at St. Ann's Inn. A short talk by Edward Everett, trust officer of the First National Bank of Fullerton, preceded the showing of the picture. Trust officials of various banks and trust companies throughout the county were present as the guests of the insurance men.

The film brought out in graphic fashion the advisability of protecting the proceeds of life insurance policies by trust agreements with a bank or trust company. It showed the typical case of the man who takes out life insurance payable in cash to his wife, and neglects to make provision for suitable investment or management of it. As a result, a considerable portion frequently goes for immediate expenses, and the wife is then forced to get the maximum income from the remainder. The temptation to invest in highly speculative gold mine stock becomes too much for her, and her small fortune quickly vanishes.

By way of contrast, the picture then shows the same estate managed by a trust company. The wife receives a regular monthly check instead of getting the entire amount at once. When it becomes necessary, however, the trust company advances money from the principal for sickness or other emergency. Funds are provided at the time when the children are going to college, and each need is taken care of as it arises.

Mr. Everett outlined in brief the principals and advantages of the insurance trust idea, bringing out his points by frequent illustrations from his own experience. He pointed out that life insurance made payable in this way to definite beneficiaries saved the expense and delay of probate. The yield on such funds under trust company management was usually in the neighborhood of six and a half per cent, after deducting the trust company's service charge.

George W. Ayars, manager at Los Angeles for the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance company which produced the picture, emphasized the fact that the trust companies have considerable discretion in handling such funds, and are empowered to use their judgment to handle different situations as they arise. This is something that the insurance company cannot do in carrying out income settlement provisions under its own contract. The film, he said, was the Phoenix Mutual's contribution to further co-operation between trust and insurance companies.

In opening the meeting, the underwriters heard a group of solos sung by Miss Lorene Croddy. They were "The Newly Weds," "The Cut Direct" and "My Hero." Miss Croddy sang as an encore "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." She was accompanied by Miss Mary Bruner on the piano.

The meeting was conducted by Guy Gilbert, president of the association, who arranged the program. R. G. Cartwright, Alvin Nowotny and Clay Holt were appointed as a nominating committee to select officers to be voted on at the next meeting.

BURGLARS PASS UP JEWELRY IN NIGHT SEARCH

Although the home of E. C. Enlow, 2556 Valencia street, was entered by burglars last night, while members of the family were away from home, and the bedrooms systematically searched, the thieves overlooked several hundreds of dollars worth of jewelry and left without taking anything of value, according to a report made to the city police.

Burnt matches were found scattered throughout the bedrooms and footprints were found in and around the house.

Entrance was gained after a screwdriver had been used to unfasten a screen over a window which was not locked.

A. Kinkinberg reported to police yesterday that the vacant house located on the northwest corner of Sixth and Shelton streets was being entered by boys and damage done to the woodwork, which was being carved. He asked protection from officers and an investigation was ordered.

LOCAL PEOPLE EAT MORE ICE CREAM, BUTTER

SACRAMENTO, May 4—Santa Ana is speedily becoming a city of butter, cheese and ice cream eaters.

Last year marked up the greatest consumption of dairy products in the city's history, according to the California Department of Agriculture. The average citizen of this city, according to the records of the state, boosted the dairy business last year as follows:

1. He used a total of 23.2 pounds of butter—or enough to spread more than 2000 slices of bread or toast liberally. During 1926 his appetite for butter caused him to eat only 22.2 pounds.

2. He drank 27.87 gallons of milk, or 4,300 glasses, as compared to 24 gallons in 1926.

3. He gobbled up 2.9 gallons, or more than 60 large-sized dishes of ice cream. In 1926 he ate only 2.69 gallons. Records show vanilla to be the predominating flavor, with chocolate a close second.

4. He ate 6.64 pounds of cheese, as compared to 6.42 pounds the previous year—not to mention an additional 3 pounds of cottage cheese, an increase of more than half a pound over 1926.

If the increase in fat production is any indication of the increase in avoirdupois, the average Californian, every day in every way, must be getting fatter and fatter. For the entire state showed a gain in fat production from 129,085,364 pounds in 1926 to 143,331,030 pounds in 1927.

Mountain counties showed a slight decrease in production, while increases were noted in Sacramento valley and North Bay counties. Considerable increases were shown in Southern San Joaquin valley and South Bay counties, while large increases were recorded in the Los Angeles and San Diego counties.

The 15 leading producing counties are Los Angeles, Merced, Stanislaus, Tulare, San Joaquin, Humboldt, Fresno, Imperial, Kings, Monterey, Sonoma, Marin, Santa Clara, San Luis Obispo and Alameda.

A total of 77,325,467 pounds of butter was manufactured during the year, as compared with 74,117,880 in 1926. Other figures for the year were: Cottage cheese, 13,504,228 pounds; ice cream, 13,078,395 gallons; market milk, 123,176,641 gallons; milk fat, total value, $84,807,000.

THINKS TUMMY PAINS DESERVE EXPERT ADVICE

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 4.—A tummy ache in a human being is much like static in a radio set, says the California State Board of Health. They both indicate that something is out of adjustment. If it can't be removed by simple methods, better call in an expert.

All those little wires, tubes, springs, connections and other dingbats in the radio are not one tenth as intricate as the human mechanism, avers the board. Trouble is, most people bet busy having their radio fixed when it gets out of order, yet kick their heads off at paying the same attention to their health.

"If you fade out, lose your breath easily, or sleep poorly, your wave length is wrong," the announcement says. "You need to reset your health dial. The human body is many times more intricate and delicate than a radio set. So why don't you keep it properly adjusted all the time?"

Seven rules for the proper care of the human body wer outlined as follows:

1. Keep your instrument properly set up. Stand upright with your chin in, chest out and up, and your stomach in.

2. Keep your battery working well. Take care of your heart. Don't let it get short-circuited by rheumatism or any other similar infection.

3. Don't shut yourself in an airtight cabinet. Tune in with the oxygen outdoors. Keep your windows open.

4. Spread out your antennae. Swing your arms and legs in the air vigorously every day.

5. Keep your loudspeaker clean. Use a tooth brush at least twice a day, and go at ltast once a year to your dentist.

6. Keep your tubes in order. Don't abuse your digestive tract or let it get clogged up. Eat wisely. Drink plenty of water.

7. Finally, see that your instruments is given an all-over inspection closely enough to prevent trouble. Have a health examination by your physician every year.

Recent tests indicate that house flies often make a journey of five or six miles in 24 hours.

M. E. Jaffa

Professor Emeritus of Nutrition at the University Of California and Chief of the California Bureau Of Food And Drugs Says—

The vegetarian, or no-meat fad is another popular delusion, Professor Jaffa finds. Meat, he declares, is a food easily digestible and well assimilated by the human body, providing protein essential for growing children, working adults, the invalid and convalescent and certain types of anaemia. "The rational use of meat is one of the factors in preventing deficiency diseases. Those living on an adequate diet containing meat have much greater resistant power than those living on a low protein level", he declares.

WATER SUPPLY PROBLEM WILL BE ENDED SOON

SACRAMENTO, May 4.—One of California's pet bugaboos, the water problem, is being taken by the horns and roped and thrown, Bert Meek, director of public works, reported to Governor C. C. Young.

Problems which have perplexed irrigationists, engineers, farmers and miners for many years are being investigated by the state, with a view to ascertaining the true facts in each of the problems.

Six water investigations, affecting nearly every part of California, are in progress at this time, according to Meek. They are:

1. A study of the entire water resources of Ventura county and the adjudication of present rights and the development of water now unused. The streams affected by this investigation are the Ventura and Santa Clara Rivers.

2. Investigations of applications for permits for water rights on the San Gabriel river. This inquiry will make water right history.

3. The Tuolumne River investigation, involving applications for water rights and [illegible] and abandoned at that point to flow back into the streams.

4. The Santa Ana river investigation which is now nearing completion.

5. Investigation of the salinity and diversions of the Sacramento river.

6. San Jacinto river inquiry where an agreement equivalent to an adjudication is expected soon.

Old time methods and bitter controversies and feuds over water rights and the harnessing of water for mining or agricultural purposes is also giving away to arbitration, Meek said.

Adjudication of nine streams has been completed and 13 are in process by Harold Conkling, chief of the division of water rights, involving more than 1,000,000 acres. Included in this was the completion of adjudication of 60,000 acres on Shasta river and adjudication of 31,000 acres of Whitewater river, Meek said.

Water masters have been appointed on four streams upon which adjudication or agreements have been completed, and on eight streams upon which proceedings are pending. The total acreage under water masters is 350,000. On the Sacramento river, the Sacramento-San Joaquin water supervisor, while without legal power, performs by common consent some of the functions of a water master, according to Meek.

Doctor at 83 Found People Preferred His Prescription

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he has used in his practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then, the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of senna and other mild laxative herbs, with pepsin.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. If grown people want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get [illegible] in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs? All drug stores have the generous bottles.

SCIENCE Discovers Amazing Beads of Soap

Revolutionary new Octagon Product made in tiny thin-walled "beads" now replaces both flakes and chips

UNLIKE any soap you have ever known. No more scrubbing or extra rinsing. Say good-by to your washboard. New patented* process makes possible these remarkable results.

Super Suds Demonstration in New York Domestic Science Class

A NEW way to make soap has been discovered! A way that banishes once for all the hardest part of washday drudgery . . . that brings a new household blessing to thirty million American women.

It's an entirely new type of soap that makes clothes whiter than ever before. That dissolves instantly. That rinses quickly. That washes dishes in much less time, with far less work.

The name of this remarkable new product is Super Suds. It's an Octagon creation . . . developed by the oldest soap manufacturer in America.

What it is—What it does

Super Suds is an entirely new type of soap . . . different in form, action and result from any you have ever known before.

It is actually soap in tiny thin-walled "beads" . . . the result of a revolutionary manufacturing discovery.

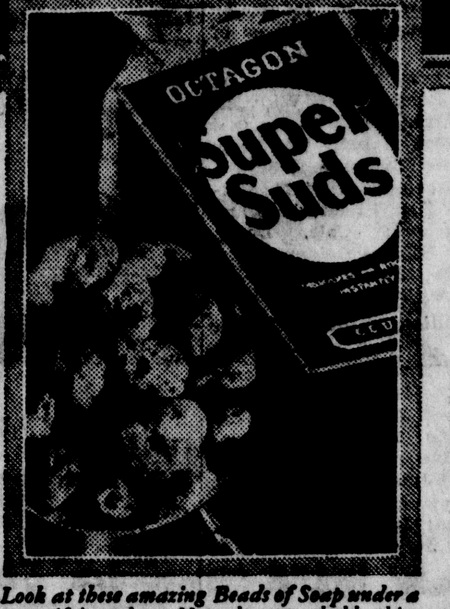
Scientists developed it. Found the way to make soap of microscopic thinness. Four times as thin as chip soap. By far the thinnest type of soap ever discovered.

The minute these tiny beads touch water—rich, active suds result. They dissolve instantly! Like magic! No other type of soap is like it. No other type of soap can give you such astonishing results.

We make this statement without reservation . . . for both chip and flake soap are Octagon products.

For every household use

Super Suds was especially designed for general household use—laundry and dishwashing, too. Thus one soap now does everything you want a soap to do. Super Suds cannot harm the daintiest fabrics . . . washes lingerie with safety. And for the heavy work on washday, it is absolutely without a rival. These facts are based on exhaustive tests in the laboratory and the home.



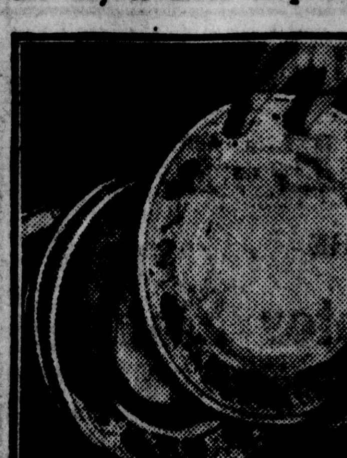
Look at these amazing Beads of Soap under a magnifying glass. Note the remarkable thinness . . . that's why you get such results.

It dissolves more rapidly than any soap you've ever used before. Its rich, lively suds actually swish about in the washtub—penetrating every fold of cloth—seeping around every fibre—washing away all grease and grime.

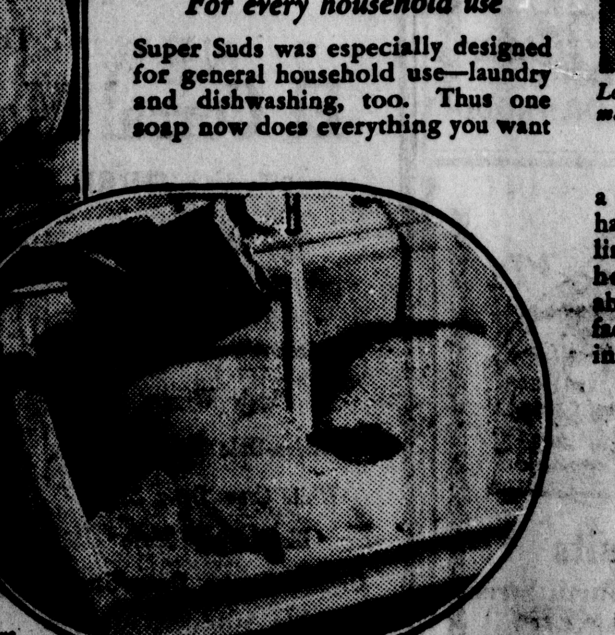
There's no need to use your washboard now. No need to scrub and rub until your back just aches from the strain. Leave it to Super Suds to soak the dirt loose without this tedious work.

With Super Suds you'll save much time and effort in rinsing alone. That's because it dissolves so completely. No soap particles are left clinging to fabrics.

Your clothes dry out snowy white. There's never a trace of "soap stain." You simply won't be able to realize that a soap can make such a difference in the appearance of your wash.



Super Suds rinses off completely and leaves no sign of film. You can let china drain and dry by itself. It will gleam and glisten as though polished with a cloth.



Just pour a little Super Suds into your tub or electric washer . . . Quick as a flash you get rich, lively suds. Super Suds dissolves quicker than any soap you've ever used before.

DISSENSION MAY WRECK GIANT BALL CLUB

SPORTSMATTER

BY
UNITED PRESS SPORTS EDITOR

Major league magnates and managers have set up a loud wail against disastrous weather during April which cost several clubs thousands of dollars in gate receipts and handicapped others through illness of players brought on by the unseasonable weather.

The two New York clubs suffered severely. The Giants were idle four days in a row at one time. An entire three-game series at Boston had to be postponed because of rain and cold weather.

The Yankees had six players, a mascot and a manager under the weather late in April.

John J. McGraw has announced that he will go before the executive committee of the two major leagues at the annual meeting in December and request that the opening of the 1929 season be postponed until the latter part of April.

The season opened this year April 11 and frigid weather marred the openings in several cities. It was so cold at Brooklyn that the Phillies and Robins had to build bonfires in the players' dugouts.. The Giants and Braves opened the season at New York in football weather.

"The Giants have lost $500,000 by having six games postponed in April," John McGraw said. "It was simply too cold in Boston and New York during most of April to play baseball.

"I brought one of the best conditioned teams north in my 25 years as manager of the Giants. We were prepared to get a big jump on the rest of the league, but entering May we are in no better shape than the other teams.

"The weather has dampened the spirit of the players. A number of them contracted colds and were not in shape to give their best efforts. I lose track of my players during these long layoffs and I don't know what pitchers are in shape to work."

"McGraw's principal objection to opening the season so early is not concerned with the financial loss, but with the great handicap imposed on the players because of idleness and illness.

Himself down with illness, Miller Huggins objects more strenuously than McGraw to the practice of starting the baseball season during cold, rainy weather.

At one time the Yankees had six of their men ailing. Earle Combs was abed with a cold. Waite Hoyt and Myles Thomas were ill for several days. Henry Johnson and John Grabowski were troubled with boils. Bob Meusel was handicapped by a sore throat and cold. Urban Shocker had no sooner signed a contract than he contracted a cold. Even the little crippled mascot of the world champions, Eddie Bennett, was among those ill.

The Boston Braves were barely able to put a team on the field the last part of April. Rogers Hornsby, Dick Burrus and Lance Richbourg were out of the lineup with influenza and Jack Smith nursed a sprained ankle. Three pitchers, Wertz, Greenfield and Bob Smith, were the victims of severe colds.

Richbourg had to get up from his sick bed to go back into right field when Smith hurt his ankle. He was ten pounds underweight at the time. Brown had to move in from the outfield to play first base and Jimmy Cooney took over Hornsby's post.

"It's going to be interesting to see just how the New York Yankees fare against southpaws during the heat of the pennant drive. Out of the first four games lost by the Yankees, three of them were to left handers.

If the Yankees prove susceptible to portside pitching this season, it may cost them the pennant. The success of Rube Walberg and Lefty Grove of the Athletics against the Yankees already have led other managers to start saving their southpaws for the world champions.

Grove and Walberg each beat the Yankees three times last season, and in the opening series between the A's and Yankees at New York they stopped the Yankees two days hand-running. The Yankees made just one run in the two games.

SAINT TRIO IN NORTH FOR BIG TRACK CLASSIC

Captain John Moffat, Ernest Velarde and Alvin Reboin, the demon hurdling triumvirate of Santa Ana high school, were in the vicinity of Selma today, fit as a fiddle for the California State Interscholastic track and field meet there tomorrow.

Moffat will run in the 220 yard low hurdles, Velarde in the 220 yard hurdles and compete in the broad jump, and Reboin in the 120 yard high hurdles.

Santa Ana has no chance to take the championship which apparently lies between Los Angeles, Glendale and Long Beach with the Jackrabbits a slight favorite on the strength of their quarter-mile, Captain Childreth, and their star hurdle topper, Joe Bills. Childreth figures to win the 440 and Bills ought to win both hurdles.

Coach "Tex" Oliver hopes that his little troupe will be able to take 10 points. Velarde has a chance to win the broad jump and should place in the low sticks. Reboin and Moffat ought to do as well in the state meet as they did in the All-Southern in which both won fourth places.

Figures below show how the leaders have finished in the state meet since the C. I. F. classic has been held:

BUGLERS ANNEX LONG THRILLER FROM SCRIBES

Like the dusky outfielder of the "cull-ud" team who wasn't worrying about the 50-run lead of his opponents because his side hadn't been to bat yet, the American Legion Bugle and Drum corps and the Santa Ana Register, teams pecked away at each other, unperturbed by 10-run leads, in yesterday's Twilight league fuss at Lincoln park.

The Buglers finally won in 10 long and hectic innings. The score was 21 to 20 and it went three extra periods because The Register came from nowhere in the seventh and scored 10 runs to tie the count at 20-all. This spirited attack followed closely on the heels of a Legion rally the inning before which was good for nine tallies.

After the seventh, both teams, which had played some good and some not so good ball behind their pitchers, Clyde Trusty and "Mossy" Stockton, braced suddenly and gave the gunners sparkling support until the Scribes collapsed in the tenth and let the winning run trickle across.

Both sides slugged heavily, Fred Robertson of the Buglers and "Colonel" Berry, George Duke and John Sylvester of the Scriveners all connecting safely four times.

In a day when capitalization of athletic talent can contribute so much to success in any profession there are very few amateur athletes who have not been helped in their occupation by their athletic reputation.

The foremost of these pure sportsmen is Clarence De Mar, the best marathon runner in the United States. De Mar is a printer.

In the height of their glory, Matt McGrath and Pat McDonald, two Olympic heroes and the greatest weight men in the world, were New York coppers and they are still at it. Although they are Capt. McGrath and Lieut. McDonald of "Traffic," they did not get their promotions during their active athletic days.

Paddy Ryan, for years the greatest hammer thrower in the world, is an inspector for the gas company in New York. Johnny Hayes, the only American who ever won an Olympic marathon, is a customs man on the Jersey water front. Willie Ritola, one of the greatest middle distance runners in the world, is a carpenter in New York. Eric Liddell, winner of the 800 meter Olympic championship in 1924, is a missionary in China. Frank Hunter, second ranking American tennis player, is a big newspaper publisher, and Dr. George King, another great tennis star, is a dentist.

Just a few meters away from the jumping off place but determined to improve their position in the close Coast Preparatory league pennant drive, Coach Bill Foote's Santa Ana high school baseball team goes to Alhambra tomorrow for its sixth conference game of the term.

Champion of the loop in 1927 and runner-up to "Shorty" Smith's Fullerton Indians for the Southern California bunting, Alhambra, with virtually the same lineup, has not been so fortunate in its starts this season. The Moors, nevertheless, will furnish the most dangerous opposition the Saints have had in a league game since Long Beach, so Foote's disciples must be on their toes to have a chance.

Foote said he intended to start John Willcutt, his young right hand pitcher, although the veteran Bob Drysdale will be available for service if needed. Wayne Vance will probably catch Willcut, leaving the hard-hitting Melvin Beatty, who has officiated behind the rubber in most of the Santa Ana battles for the past three years, free to play in the outfield.

The Saint infield will likely be composed of Curt Youel at first, Russell Sullivan at second, Warren Sullivan short and Jimmy Hall at third. Beatty, Captain Schuchardt and Johnston will be in the suburbs.

STONEHAM AND M'GRAW DON'T AGREE, REPORT

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, May 4.—One of the most capable and colorful ball clubs John J. McGraw ever collected may be stopped short in its pennant dash by internal dissension, not among the players, but among the owners.

Out in Cincinnati today the New York Giants prepared to meet the Reds in the opening game of an important four-game series. In New York, Judge Francis X. McQuade, ousted treasurer of the club, was preparing to carry to the courts his fight against President Charles A. Stoneham.

After holding office as treasurer of the Giants for nine years, McQuade suddenly was deposed, much after the fashion that Rogers Hornsby was shipped to the Braves. Like the Hornsby trade, McQuade's removal was " in the interests of harmony."

"Bah! What does Stoneham know about harmony?" McQuade said. "There is no such thing as harmony between McGraw and Stoneham and there never can be."

McQuade attacked Stoneham and McGraw for "ducking out" after announcing McQuade's removal.

"McGraw beat it to Cuba when Hornsby was traded and Stoneham made himself unreachable. Now they put me out and go West. I am right here and I'll be here all summer and when the time comes there'll be a showdown. I have plenty of ammunition and I'm not afraid to use it."

The mysterious trading of Hornsby somehow is linked with the McQuade incident, it is felt in well-informed baseball circles.

Baseball fans, speculating on the next member of the Giants to go the way of Hornsby and McQuade have settled on John McGraw and

'BIG FIGHT' TO BE DEMPSEY'S STAGE VEHICLE

NEW YORK, May 4—Jack Dempsey has signed a contract to fight two rounds every night for a year.

The former heavyweight champion has agreed to play the role of a prize fighter in a dramatic play entitled "The Big Fight" by Max Marcin and Milton Herbert Gropper, which will be produced in New York this fall by Sam Harris and Albert Lewis under the personal direction of David Belasco.

Estelle Taylor, Dempsey's wife, will play the leading role, that of a manicure girl. They will receive, it is said, the biggest salary ever paid to any one on the stage, exceeding even the previous high sum of $12,000 a week paid to Al Jolson.

The play will go into rehearsal the last week in August and will open on Broadway in September.'

Dempsey is enthusiastic about the play and will go through a period of training to condition himself for his role.

"I got to defend my laurels in the story," Jack said, "So I got to be in good shape and I'll have to do some training. I like the part and I believe I'll act it O. K."

Orange Cagemen Receive Letters

ORANGE, May 4—Sweaters and letters were presented to members of the varsity basketball team at the gymnasium yesterday afternoon by Coaches H. E. Chambers and Stewart White. Varsity team members to receive awards were Harvey Pease, captain; Alvin Edwards, Vernon Valentine, Edward Dews, Herman Walker, Clarence Bandick.

Pope Opposes Fascist Girls' Contest

ROME, May 4—Pope Pius made public his disapproval of an athletic contest for Fascist girls scheduled to open here today.

The pope's letter, to the bishop of Rome, deplored that such a contest should be held "in the month of the Virgin Mary," but said he had no objection to the girls' athletic competitions as a means of strengthening and beautifying their bodies, "if the competitions were kept within proper bounds."

Lincoln School Girls Win City Title On Court

Lincoln school today held the elementary school girls' basketball championship of Santa Ana following its 20 to 14 victory over Delhi school on the high school courts yesterday. The teams were coached by Helen Richards and Marian Bruner, local junior college students.

Lincoln, winner of the Northern City league, defeated McKinley, champion of the Central league, by a score of 15 to 12 last week to get into the final playoffs.

The lineup:

Lincoln

Margaret Munro, Dorothy Guthrie, Mary Wallace, Muriel Bray, Geraldine Bray, Frances Tibbetts, Mary Martinez, Mary Mercurio, Twila Heath, Elvin Haddock.

Delhi

Lupe Barajas, Gregoria Pedroza, Frances Moreno, Vera Argott, Cuca Placentia, Rosaria Reyes, Margarita Gallegos, Maria Pedroza, Leonora Lujan, Aurora Martinez.

Millers Leading Richfield, 1 to 0

HOLLYWOOD, May 4. — The Minneapolis Millers today hold a 1 to 0 lead over the Richfield Oilers in their two game intersectional hockey series.

The American Association champions got the only goal in the first game last night. The series is to be decided by total goals scored and the Miller margin is far from secure.

[illegible] CHANCES OF GIANTS

McQuade's statement seems to indicate that there is an internal battle going on among the club officials which the public never has learned about.

From several sources has come the information that McGraw is manager of the Giants in name only and that Stoneham rules the "Little Napoleon" with a mailed fist.

Jackie Fields In Ring Go Tonight

HOLLYWOOD, May 4.—Jackie Fields, challenger for Mush Callahan's world's junior welterweight crown, will fight Don Fraser, of Spokane, in a 10-round bout at Hollywood Legion stadium tonight.

Fields has more to lose than to win. He is virtually assured of a title bout June 12.

In Fraser he will meet a rugged fighter with a punch. Fraser has beat some good boys and ought to put up a good fight. However, Fields should win.

Bremen Flyers To See Garden Bouts

NEW YORK, May 4—The crew of the Bremen—Major Fitzmaurice, Captain Koehl and Baron Von Huenefeld—have seats reserved at the ringside for tonight's all-star boxing program at Madison Square Garden. Over 2,000,000 people rode the Big Red Cars last week

You, too, can save this way.

SINCE the new low fares were announced by Pacific Electric on April 27th, thousands of people are finding that the Red Cars now offer the safest, surest, most convenient transportation in Southern California.

This is the ideal way to go back and forth between your home and the city.

You board the train at a definite time. Rest in a comfortable seat. Read an instructive book or line up the duties of the day. Soon you arrive at your destination refreshed and relaxed. At lower cost, too, than ever before.

10 to 45% Lower Fares

Reductions varying from 10 to 45% have been made on all one way and round trip interurban fares. These reductions will cost the Pacific Electric large sums of money, but it is believed that passenger traffic will be increased to such an extent that the total amount of revenue received from fares will be even greater than before. Thus you, your community and the Pacific Electric will benefit.

Commutation Books

For some time past commutation fares have been below the actual cost of rendering service. To put such fares more nearly on the basis of actual cost, a slight increase in commutation rates has been established. Commutation books have been simplified also. Now only two are available.

1. A 60-ride book to be used within 40 days for individuals who use the Red Cars daily or very frequently.
2. A 46-ride book to be used within 60 days for students under 19 years of age who are attending institutions of learning.

DIRECTOR OF WELFARE HITS JAILS AGAIN

(By United Press)

SACRAMENTO, May 4.—County jails in California are again the target for a broadside by Mrs. Anna L. Saylor, state director of social welfare, who described to Gov. C. C. Young the overcrowded, unsanitary and even "filthy" condition prevailing in most of them.

Legislation aimed to give one state department the authority to supervise county jails and order changes and corrections when they are found necessary will be introduced at the legislature of 1929, Mrs. Saylor said.

Figures compiled by the state department of social welfare show that Orange county jail held a total of 2098 prisoners during the fiscal year 1927. Included in that number were 78 women and 99 children. This represents a gain of 26 prisoners since the fiscal year 1924, the records show.

"It is true that county jails are designed primarily for transitory care but the jails, like the state prisons, should be an important adjunct to a state plan for crime deterrence and human readjustment.

"It is to be regretted that the counties don't utilize the services of the men in county jails. The county could have the benefit of their labor on county roads and other building projects. Even the men would be greatly benefited by such a policy," Mrs. Saylor says.

The least the county jail authorities could do is to furnish the prisoner with a bucket of water and a bar of soap and permit them to clean up their own quarters and even make themselves responsible for the cleanliness of their own cleaning stations, she believes.

"Sonoma, Kern, Ventura, Los Angeles, Siskiyou and Orange counties have the cleanest jails in the state," says Mrs. Saylor. "I have a list of county jails which are not fit for human occupation but I am not ready to bring their disgrace before the public eye yet."

Her records show that Orange county spent $28,242.56 for maintenance and operation and $2000 for repairs and improvements of the jail during 1927.

Mrs. Saylor has already asked the state legislative council bureau to whip into shape for the 1929 legislature a bill designed to prohibit the retention of children, insane, epileptics and feeble-minded in the county jails of California.

SPECIALIST IN FIREWORKS ART TELLS OF WORK

ORANGE, May 4.—A set piece maker, who has followed his trade for 37 years and in whose veins runs the blood of generations of fireworks builders, spent several days this week in Orange fashioning the pyrotechnic displays used in the celebration of Queen Valencia's court here this week.

Hitt comes from a family of fireworks makers who have plied their trade for generations in England, being one of a present generation of five brothers to come to America. The sons of all the brothers have been initiated into the art.

There are few men on the Pacific coast, says Hitt, who hails from San Francisco, who know the combinations of chemicals which produce the changing colors in the set piece. Such secrets he declares, when once discovered, are well guarded.

It is not difficult, Hitt says, to teach any good mechanic to place the lances that make the points of flame, but it is extremely difficult to learn the right proportions and combinations to get the desired result.

All set pieces are hand made, as are many of the fireworks commonly seen, the worker maintains, this fact being due to lack of machinery as there are few factories of the sort in existence.

The whole world contributes to the making of the set piece, he says. The Chinese he declares, are not the originators of the set piece, never having made anything more difficult than firecrackers. All makers of fireworks, he says have worked to discover the lost secret of Greek fire.

Among the interesting set pieces that Hitt has helped to make was a portrait of Princess Pat on her trip to America and a battle between a pirate ship and a Spanish boat. At a recent California poultry show he designed a golden egg which broke revealing a fluffy yellow chick. The largest piece he ever saw was at the Crystal palace in London, where a huge ship painted in fire showed the launching of life boats in a storm at sea and the descent of the passengers into them.

DIRT PLACED ON BEACH PLAYGROUND

NEWPORT BEACH, May 4.—Work was started at the Newport Beach grammar school today which will result in dirt being placed on the playground before the school opens next fall. The sand is being removed and loads of dirt are being placed on the ground. The children still have the beach in front of the school when they desire a sandy playground and will now have a place where they can play baseball and other games.

The school is to be restuccoed during the summer months, it is reported by H. O. Ensign, principal. The old part of the building has never been finished in stucco but has been left with its original brick finish. The auditorium and new rooms which were added to the structure about two years ago were finished in stucco. The improvement is expected to greatly change the appearance of the school.

No new class rooms will be added to the school this summer, according to Ensign, who reports that the school is large enough to care for a considerable growth before more room will be needed. More than 320 students are registered in the school at present.

SEAL BEACH BOARD ADOPTS BOAT LAW

SEAL BEACH, May 4.—At a meeting of the city council last night the much disputed speed boat ordinance was adopted as originally framed. Though restricting the speeds boats in Anaheim Bay to six nautical miles within 300 feet of any bulkhead and 10 nautical miles within the bay, there is a provsion included that makes it possible for the council to grant a special permit for a lane for the boats wherein they may be allowed an unlimited speed during certain hours and on certain days. Objectors to the ordinance were instructed to present a petition outlining their desired speed and the section of the bay for such a lane and present it to the council at the next meeting.

The city council, after further debating of the flood control proposition of the Los Angeles flood control district, went on record as approving the measure with the provision that the flood control district pay its proportionate share of the expense to the city of Seal Beach in conjunction with the Pacific Electric in a bridge on the highway parallel with the Pacific Electric highway extending Electric avenue in Seal Beach. A time limit of one year was an additional provision requiring the proposed highway to be started within that time after the completion of the flood control project.

Five bids for the collection of city garbage were received and filed to allow of investigation of references. Bids ranged from $120, for first year, $130 for second year and $140 for third year to a bid of $225 per month for the entire time.

The plaintiff did not appear and the defendant was represented by A. E. Koepsel. It was held that although there are ordinances covering fighting, rioting and disturbing the peace, there is no ordinance covering assault.

ANAHEIM CLUB SCORES HIT IN ONE ACT PLAY

ANAHEIM, May 4.—Members of the Anaheim Business and Professional Woman's club scored a hit last night in the presentation of a humorous one-act play, "The Old Maids Club," given in the main banquet hall of the Elks clubhouse.

Some 200 persons witnessed the play, which was produced under the direction of the club president, Mrs. Winifred Fisher.

Music by a comedy orchestra contributed to the fun of the evening.

Those taking part in the play and the roles they carried were Miss Adelaide Osborn, "Louella Matilda Primrose;" Mrs. Winifred Fisher, "Phillip Andrew James;" Ruth Upp, "Tommy Doolittle;" Miss Ada Gandy, "Dora Doolittle;" Nancy Wiseman, "Maude Hopeworth;" Lola Jones, "Faith Snowmore;" Mrs. Elsie Rymer, "Marie Ellen Hopewell;" Dorothy Osborn, "Sally Brown;" Lucile Sprouse, "Julia Jones;" Miss Madge Sanders, "Mary Elizabeth Smith;" Myrtle Baum, "Viola Longfellow;" Mrs. Adelaide Goodson, "Lucy Rosebud;" Helen Harden, "Martha Weinhauber," and Mrs. Babe Hart, "Betty Bobinet."

Bridge Club Launched By Merry Group Of Girls

Choosing the title of the Entre Nous club, a group of attractive girls last night formed a friendly organization for playing bridge at monthly intervals, when they were entertained by Miss Dorothy Beckman in her home at 1338 South Parton street.

The business meeting continued long enough for the members to elect Miss Henrietta Lykke as president, and Miss Monta Currie, as secretary-treasurer, and then yielded to bridge. Miss Lykke's honor at being chosen president, did not affect her skill in playing, and she made the high score of the evening. Miss Vyola Schmideke was consoled.

Miss Beckman chose a rose theme in her appointments, offering it in tally cards, prizes in rose crystal, baskets of roses which adorned the home, and dainty rose cups for mints and nuts. Refreshments were served to the soft light of candles.

Surprise Gift Shower For Bride-elect

Miss Hazel Kellogg, who is to wed Archie Perkins in the near future, discovered Wednesday evening that her wedding plans were of much interest to her friends in the Pythian Sisters, for she was surprised at a gift shower which followed the regular lodge meeting in the K. of P. hall.

Mrs. Laura Sanborn and Mrs. Herman Smith had fashioned a huge May basket, and the daintily wrapped gifts were placed in this for presentation to the honoree. After the widely varied gifts had all been examined and admired, refreshments of salad, wafers, strawberry shortcake, coffee and mints, were served by Mrs. Evelyn Scarles, Mrs. J. A. Gardiner and Mrs. Edward Cochems.

Julia Lathrop Mothers And Their Daughters Dine Together

Surely no more inspiring sight could be offered than that of 350 happy mothers and daughters, who gathered last night at the Y. M. C. A. for the Julia Lathrop Mother-Daughter banquet. So enthusiastic was the response of the school girls and their mothers, that every reservation was taken within a short time after the affair was announced, and there were almost as many who could not get accommodations, as were entertained.

Tables were very inviting with their tall pink candles and low bowls of sweet peas and Scotch broom. The decorating had been done by teachers of the school. At each place were clever little folders, each bearing a tribute to mothers.

After devotions offered by Mrs. W. H. McPeak, and the general singing of the "Mothers' Doxology" led by Miss Edith Cornell with Mrs. Frances Beeson at the piano, H. G. Nelson, principal of the school, gave a brief talk in which he stated that in the eight or nine years since the banquets were introduced, he had missed none, but that last night's was the largest affair of its kind ever held in the city.

His introduction of Mrs. Iva M. Webber, dean of girls and vice principal of the school, brought resounding applause, which indicated the place Mrs. Webber has in the hearts of her pupils. In her splendid talk, Mrs. Webber spoke of the prevailing idea of a mother's influence in her daughter's development, but declared that we heard less of the undoubted influence of the daughter in developing her mother.

She then introduced Miss Cornell as soloist, whose selection was "Little Old Garden," very beautifully sung. Miss Alberta Green, president of Every Girl's club, presented a toast to "Our Mothers," to which Mrs. Fred Ross responded with "Our Daughters," stating that women of today were occupied with the thought of the kind of women their daughters will make, and asking that they not lose sight of the present.

"Our New Friends in the Seventh Grade" were toasted by Miss Winifred Tripplett, and the newcomers among the girls asked to stand. Miss Winifred also played "Rustles of Spring" with a marked skill for so youthful a pianist. A clever acrobatic dance was the contribution of Miss Farla Nell Clayton to the program, after which a group of Camp Fire Girls led by Miss Flora Hemphill, sang "Wonderful Mother of Mine."

"Girls From Other Schools" rose when they were toasted by Miss Juanita Smoot of the eighth grade, and were given cordial welcome. Miss Vivian Martin gave a charming reading, "The Little Girl My Mother Used to Be," followed by the presentation of the Girl Reserves code and an outline of the organization's aims and ideals, by Miss Vera Getty.

Miss Grace Wurster entertained everyone with her humorous Negro dialect reading, "In The Morning," and was followed by the song, "Baby Your Mother" by the Foster twins who played their own ukulele accompaniment.

Miss Eunice Bright of the ninth grade, toasted "Ideals of Our Mothers," with Mrs. Clara Brucke offering "Our Second Girlhood," after which J. A. Cranston was introduced. His talk was strictly informal, but he quite won the hearts of his audience, first by lauding Mrs. Webber, and second by promising a new auditorium.

"In selecting Mrs. Webber for the place she fills, one factor entering into the decision was that she was herself, a noble mother. Through her wise counsel and advice, she has placed her mark on the girls of the school," he declared.

The program closed with glee club numbers, the girls looking very smart in their trim little white dresses with green silk handkerchief scarfs. They sang "Hark! Hark! the Lark!" and "The Icicle," two numbers which gave them first place in the county Eisteddfod.

Mrs. Lamb and Mrs. Lindsay, president and board member of the P.-T. A. were introduced, and the remainder of the evening given over to chat and introductions. The dinner of creamed chicken and hot biscuits, fruit salad, pie a la mode and other good things, had been prepared under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn Searles, and was deftly served by a group of high school boys.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Women's Missionary Meeting

The Women's Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church met in the church parlors on Wednesday at 2 p. m. Beautiful sweet peas and roses were used in decorations. The president, Mrs. W. H. McPeak, presided.

Mrs. O. S. Johnson led the devotional service. The program was in charge of Mrs. T. L. Warren. The subject was "Companions of the Way" and "Race Relations." Miss Roseline Kellogg reviewed the chapter, "Companions of the Way." Mrs. Roy Roepke sang a song, the words of which were composed by Miss Roseline Kellogg, Mrs. William Breckinridge accompanied on the piano. Miss Helen McPeak, secretary of the Girls' Reserves, had a class of ten young girls present who gave a demonstration of their work, which was very instructive and interesting. The society thanked the girls for illustrating some of the work they are doing. Mrs. Roepke favored with another solo.

A pageant, showing the different races of America was put on by a number of women.

At the close of the program, delicious grape juice, and assorted cakes were served by the committee, Mrs. T. L. Warren, Miss Roseline Kellogg, Mrs. D. F. Cook, Mrs. L. B. Skiles and Mrs. Mary Cox. A very pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

Spurgeon Missionary

Spurgeon Missionary society held its regular all-day meeting in the church parlors Wednesday. Mrs. A. A. Jones conducted Bible study from the Book of Acts. Very interesting reports from the annual missionary meeting held at Long Beach last month, were given by Mrs. B. W. Glasner and Mrs. Lillie Hamilton. Mrs. Louis Miller gave a talk from the Council Bulletin.

Luncheon at noon was an enjoyable interval. After noon devotionals were led by Mrs. W. C. Speer with topic, "Discipleship Characteristics." The missionary bulletin was given by Mrs. T. W. Oglesby. The president, Mrs. Henry Donan, had charge of the business meeting.

Miss Ellen Cloud, missionary nurse from Chihauhua, Mexico, gave a very interesting talk, telling of her many experiences in Mexico.

Master Violinist Will Be Heard in Concert At Rendezvous

One of the events of Music week, in which everyone in the county will be interested, is the concert to be presented by Valdimir Lenski, master violinist, on Tuesday night, May 8, in the new Rendezvous ballroom, Balboa.

Lenski's reputation as an internationally known artist, promises to attract a record crowd to the ballroom, and those who have been privileged to hear him, feel certain that his program will satisfy the most captious critic. He has planned to present a varied program ranging from the works of the older classical composers, through the romantic to the modern and ultra-modern periods.

Of special interest to the trained musicians of the county, is the fact that he will play the Cyril Scott suite which that composer dedicated to Zimbalist, and which Zimbalist himself played in New York, but which has never yet been presented on the western coast.

"I shall offer everything known to violin technique, every tonal device known, and shall play from the finest to the latest popular classics," the maestro declared in outlining his program. "Composers to be included are Mendelssohn, Wieniawski, Kreisler, Vieuxtemps, Saint-Saens, Sarasate—every composer of note, whether among the ancient classicists, or the modern. I shall include some of my own things, and shall show them every trick and device known to the artist."

The program will begin at 8:30 o'clock, in order to allow plenty of time for the audience to gather from all parts of the county. Long Beach and other cities of the Southland, are sending music lovers to the event.

Karola Launspach, a pupil of Thilo Becker, will act as accompanist to the maestro. The violin he will use, is the famous Gaspard Duiffopruggar, the oldest violin in the world, and for which he has been offered $50,000. The violin has been played by almost every great master violinist of the past, Paganini, Ole Bull, Sarasate, and many others, and is one of the most beautiful instruments imaginable, not only in the richness and depth of its tonal qualities, but in form and finish.

Bridge Afternoon Has Fountain and Bird Accompaniment

Bridge to the accompaniment of singing bird and plashing fountain, was the happy experience yesterday afternoon of a group of guests of Mrs. Harry M. Smith and Mrs. Blanche Brown, who entertained at the home of the former, 2405 Valencia street.

With all the rooms of the home opening on the patio, no more delightful setting could be asked than that afforded by the Smith home. It so inspired Mrs. Chester E. Hawk and Mrs. George Strachan, that they made first and second high scores, but had quite the opposite effect on Mrs. J. U. Viau, who was consoled with a set of Japanese wind bells. Mrs. Hawk's reward for high score, was a beautifully embroidered tea apron, while a pair of decorated candles was presented Mrs. Strachan.

Dainty linens and bud vases of deep red rosebuds, were interesting details of the tea hour, when chicken salad, nut bread sandwiches, olives, coffee, pineapple ice and cake were served. The delicious cake had been baked by Mrs. Brown's mother, Mrs. James A. Small.

Enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Smith, were Mrs. Grace Bond of Hollywood, Mrs. Daniel Casey and Mrs. J. U. Viau, of Orange; Mrs. A. A. Jones, Mrs. Lydia Wilcox, Mrs. Fleetwood Bell, Mrs. Chester Hawk, Mrs. Allen Mandy, Mrs. E. H. Granger, Mrs. Benjamin Livesey, Mrs. Herman Reuter, Mrs. J. F. Adams, Mrs. N. E. Wells, Mrs. E. E. Boething, Mrs. Fred Conover, Mrs. George Strachan, Mrs. Marshall Harnois, Mrs. Eleanor Elliott and Miss Anne Robertson.

The WOMAN'S DAY

By ALLENE SUMNER

The Ladies' Aid Society of a certain church recently got considerable fame for itself by giving a 50-cent church supper which consisted of fried chicken, warm biscuits and gravy, mashed potatoes, green peas and fresh asparagus, vegetable salad with roquefort cheese dressing, parkerhouse rolls and butter, fruit salad, ice cream, two kinds of cake, coffee, and mints. And if that wasn't all, it certainly ought to have been.

The historic "shot" fired heard 'round the world" had no more reverberations than this church supper menu for 50 cents.

The cry of the consumer is, "If church women can serve a meal like this and make money, why can't we get better food in our restaurants?"

The cry of many a stingy husband as he shows this item in the evening paper to his good wife is:

"There, I told you that you had all the money for groceries you needed and just don't know how to manage your money! If women can make a spread like that for 50 cents, what I ought to be eatin'?"

And the cry of many a restaurant keeper who sees this menu just about the time he's wondering how in the world he can possibly serve pigs' knuckles and sauerkraut for any less than 40 cents is:

"Wish I had some of those dames working for me?"

HERE'S THE ANSWER

Now any and all of us who have had any contact with church suppers whatsoever know the answer. We know that most of the food was donated and we know that the donations came easily because it was one form of charity for which the good women never had to ask their husbands. It merely meant stepping to the phone and ordering the chicken or the cake or pie or cooky ingredients, all to go down on the household bills, and papa to be none the wiser.

And we all know, too, that of all extravagant, unbusinesslike, silly ventures, the church supper of the kind that gives a $2 meal for 50 cents, is the last word.

When I was a kid "our bunch" got our church suppers free by waiting on table. But when one considers that the paying eaters got cold meat and potato salad and hot buttered rolls and pickles and olives and two kinds of cake and coffee for a dime, we certainly earned our keep.

"Are we surprised? You bet your life. To think that you have come to life," said Clowny, as he shook a tiny daisy's little hand. We've always seen you in the ground, but now we see you running 'round. You have such funny little legs I don't see how you stand."

And then a tulip raised its head and very, very proudly said, "Oh we can do most anything, if we are let alone. The gardener makes us stand real still. Of course that isn't any thrill. That's why, when breezes blow real hard, you often hear us moan."

"Well, let's forget about that now," said Scouty, "seems to me, somehow, that we can find some games to play. What games can you suggest?" A daisy shouted, "Hide and seek! We all must promise we won't peek. It's heaps of fun if it's played right. I think that game is best."

This bright suggestion made a hit, and Coppy said, "Well, I'll be it. The rest of you can run and hide. I'll try to find you then." The game was tried, and it was fun. My, how the little flowers could run. When Clowny cried, "Now I'll be it," the game was tried again.

When everyone grew all tired out, a buttercup jumped up to shout, "Oh, Tinymites, please help us. You can do it, if you'll try. We're only buttercups, you see, but we are sad as we can be. They say we're very pretty, but of butter we are shy."

Wee Scouty looked at them awhile, and then his face broke in a smile. "Say, if it's butter that you need, there's no cause for alarm. Just follow us up o'er the hill, and you shall shortly have your fill. I know where we can get some if we come upon a farm."

MENUS for the Family

By SISTER MARY

BREAKFAST—Cereal with baked apples and cream, oven toast, scrambled eggs with dried beef, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Rice with spinach, rye bread, new onions, banana pudding, milk, tea.

DINNER—Ham en casserole, stuffed beet salad, prune whip with custard sauce, milk, coffee.

With the golf season upon us many housewives find it necessary to plan dinners that will bear waiting. The casserole of ham can be kept hot for some time after it's done without danger of drying out and spoiling. The salad is not a perishable variety that easily wilts and the dessert can be kept on ice until needed.

Ham en Casserole

One slice ham cut 1 inch thick, potatoes, onions, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1-8 teaspoon ground ginger, 1-8 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 cup milk.

Trim rind from ham, leaving a rim of fat. Soak for two hours in cold water. Half fill a baking dish or casserole with raw potatoes cut in thin slices. Sprinkle very sparingly with salt and pepper. Add a thick layer of onions cut in thin slices. Place on top the slice of ham. Pour in milk and sprinkle ham with ginger and mustard. Cover closely and bake 1 1-2 hours in a moderate oven. Serve from casserole.

The ham should have an inch rim of fat since no other fat is used for the potatoes.

AT THE THEATER

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

The audience of the Yost Broadway theater last night viewing the local showing of the super-movie, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," was even more enthusiastic, if such a thing is possible, than the crowds that have witnessed any of its former local presentations.

The lasting quality of the mammoth picture production seems to bear out the general opinion expressed at the time of its first memorable showing, when many critics and savants had the foresight to predict that here was a movie that would live forever, and grow better with every showing.

WEST END THEATER

In "Chinatown Charlie," Johnny Hines' latest picture, which closes tonight at the West End theater, will be seen many sets showing the queer, narrow hallways and rabbit quarters in New York's colorful Chinatown.

To properly photograph these was no slight problem, but Cameraman Al Wilson devised a tripod for the movie camera which is adjustable to any angle, something on the univesal giant principle. By its use the camera could be set firmly on its legs and then twisted to any conceivable slant.

WEST COAST-WALKER

Lon Chaney's latest and perhaps greatest role of the screen immortalizes a fast-dying race. So the famous character actor declares, in describing his role in "Laugh Clown, Laugh," which closes tonight at the West Coast-Walker theater. For the clown of the old stage, harlequinades and the circus is passing.

While at work on the new screen drama Chaney entertained an old friend in "Toto," last of the great clowns. "Toto" is still a star of the stage with his clown make-up—but probably the last.

Chaney's new starring vehicle is a tense drama of the theater in which he plays the tragic role enacted on the stage by Lionel Barrymore. The unhappy funster who could make millions laugh—but could not laugh himself, and his sacrifice for the happiness of the woman he loves form powerful dramatic situations.

Japanese Subjects Will Receive Cups

TOKIO, May 4.—A wooden cup is the reward for old age in Japan.

His imperial majesty, the Emperor Hirohito, has ordered 400,000 cups of lacquered wood to present to those of his subjects more than 80 years old who attend his enthronement in Kyoto November 10.

The cups are of three grades, the cheapest for those between 80 and 90 years of age, a better quality for persons between 90 and 100 and an even better cup for subjects more than 100 years old.

Manufacturers of Wakamatsu, famous for its lacquer ware, will make the imperial gifts.

WOMEN SEEK VOTE

CHARLEWILLE, France, May 4.—The Ardennes section of the French Union for Woman Suffrage adopted a resolution calling on parliament, especially the senate, to grant French women immediately the right to vote. This section based its action on the assertion that "in 1848 when universal suffrage was adopted for France the men voters were much less qualified to understand political problems than the women of today."

A "PECK" OF MEDICINE DID NO GOOD

But ALL-BRAN brought natural relief

Read what Kellogg's ALL-BRAN did for Mr. Hamilton—a chronic sufferer from constipation.

"I am 35 years old and truly believe I have taken a peck of medicine, costing a good many dollars, for constipation, and all I got was temporary relief. Now since I began taking your ALL-BRAN I have had a natural movement (with a single exception, and that was my fault) every day. From a grateful user of your ALL-BRAN."

W. N. HAMILTON, Export, Penna.

Constipation causes headaches, blotched skins, sleeplessness, spots before the eyes. It is father of more than forty serious diseases.

Guard against it. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation. Two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. Doctors recommend Kellogg's because it is 100% bran. Because it is much more effective than part-bran products could possibly be.

A health cereal too! Serve with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey. Use in cooking. Recipes on every package. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

EXAGGERATION IN DANCES IS GONE

By JACK CUDDY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, May 4.—American dancing has entered a period of repression.

Restraint is the motif of the latest dance steps, according to Arthur Murray, well known dancing master who instructs annually approximately 100,000 students.

Gone—or at least going—are the heel-flingers and the boundings-about of yesteryears; exaggerated hesitations and accentuated rhythms have placed shackles upon the ungoverned cavortings of jazz-mad America, Murray told the United Press.

"Failure of performance is the secret of the latest steps," Murray explained. "Sparkling life, joyous abandon and ardent passion are suggested but not actually expressed. Even more verve is felt by the dancer and noted by the spectator than in the older unrestrained movements. But the frank expression is muffled in halting steps, similar to abortive gestures or whispered words."

Two new dances—more or less popular—are the "Varsity Drag" and the "Five-Step." Repression characterizes both.

The drag, which first appeared in the musical comedy "Good News," suggests the irrepressible effervesence of college youth. It is a madcap dance, somewhat modified by hesitations and glidings. The "Five-Step," which had its inception in George White's Scandals, a musical comedy, was designed to succeed stamping, hip-patting sensuous "Black Bottom." Its name came from its composition of five distinct steps.

Neither dance has won the popularity of the "Charleston" or the "Black Bottom." Murray attributes their failure to lack of restraint.

BARBER SURPRISED

ST. ALBANS, England, May 4.—A local barber was surprised when a man walked into his shop, placed sixpence, about 12 cents, on the counter and said:

"Take fourpence out of that, please, but I do not want to buy anything."

He then explained that 11 years ago he had a shave at the shop, but had not paid for it at the time. He had been abroad ever since, and had only just returned, so he desired to settle his debt.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

SMITH VICTORY IN CALIFORNIA SIGNIFICANT

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—While many California papers did not comment on the Democratic contest in the presidential primary election Tuesday other important journals held the victory of Al Smith was extremely significant.

The Los Angeles Evening Express declared Smith's victory was due to the inefficient campaign of the Walsh forces.

"Utter absence of organization on the part of Walsh supporters made Smith's victory possible in California," it said. "Tammany forces for the past eight months, had been preparing the Smith vote and opposition failed to organize until too late to crystallize sentiment. Smith's victory was inevitable on that basis.

"Many Democrats refused to go to the polls, as indicated in the number of votes cast for all three Democratic candidates."

"Smith obviously was the only real candidate," the Los Angeles Record, an independent paper, commented editorially. "He certainly will be nominated at Houston with a good chance of election in November. It would not be surprising if he overwhelmed Hoover in the latter's own state, California. The reason? Smith definitely represents the general reaction against bureaucratic rule by minorities—such minorities as big business, the fanatical prohibitionists, the flag-wavers who grab oil with one hand and gag free speech with the other."

The Pomona Progress-Bulletin, influential Republican daily, declared:

"The large vote for Hoover despite the lack of a contest is particularly pleasing to Republican leaders, being a tremendous demonstration of California's support for her favorite son."

"Tuesday's election left no question as to whom the majority of California Democrats wish for their president," the Hollywood Citizen, important Los Angeles suburban daily, said. "Yet it did not determine what 'dry' Democrats will do if a 'wet' candidate heads the national ticket.

"Progress, intelligence and democracy won in California," said the San Francisco News, Scripps-Howard newspaper, in describing the overthrow of the McAdoo element.

"Democracy has had a millstone about its neck. This is the influence of the Anti-Saloon league, the haters of the Ku Klux Klan, the righteous witch burning bigots, the religious zealots of intolerance.

"On Tuesday California rebuked this element with a voice that will never be forgotten . . . Whatever happens at Houston it is now assured that the disgraceful scenes of 1924 will not be repeated.

"McAdoo with his rule or ruin policy stands repudiated. Tuesday's election heralds the birth of a new party, the regenerated and liberated party of Jefferson, Cleveland and Wilson."

Senator Reed's vote is described by the San Francisco Examiner, Hearst newspaper, as "a voluntary public tribute to a sterling character," and points out that his campaign was entirely without assistance from the state party organization.

"Primary elections are intended to bring out public opinion and preference and this one did," the paper said.

RICE LOSES TWO COACHES

Rice Institute has lost two members of its athletic department this year. John Heisman, football coach, resigned several months ago, and Dickie Kerr, baseball coach, quit a few days ago.

A sky flecked with small white clouds is sometimes called a mackerel sky.

Seagrave After Hydroplane Mark

LONDON, May 4.—Major H. O. D. Seagrave, the noted automobile speed king and late holder of the world's speed record on land, is transferring his affections from the automobile to a 60-mile-an-hour super-hydroplane.

This "marine-automobile" is being built by a London firm at a cost of $7500 and is the essence of speed and luxury. Streamlined like the fuselage of an airplane, the craft accommodates five persons and is fitted with a 200 horsepower engine developing 2300 revolutions a minute.

The major will race this craft at most of the important regattas throughout Britain and will probably attempt to beat the existing speed record of more than 80 miles an hour.

The Perfect Shortening

Cudahy's Puritan Lard has won distinction as "The Perfect Shortening" because of its unequalled baking and cooking qualities. It has that essential grainy texture which assures perfect mixing with other baking ingredients.

Puritan Lard makes light, fluffy, fine grained cakes, and pies with rich, tender, flaky crust that melts in the mouth. Unequalled for deep frying as it quickly forms a golden brown seal around the food which keeps in all the natural flavor, prevents absorption of lard and assures rich, tasty cooking.

Puritan is 100% pure leaf, open kettle rendered and free from moisture. It does not smoke at cooking temperature, will not absorb food flavors and may therefore be used again and again. At your dealer's.

VEGETABLES ON MENU AT STATE INSTITUTIONS

BY HOMER L. ROBERTS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Special to The Register)

SACRAMENTO, May 4. — More vegetables and less meat is the new order of the menu at California's insane hospitals and other state institutions, according to plans under way by Earl E. Jensen, director of the state department of institutions.

With a view of providing a balanced diet for the dining tables of these institutions, which include the state schools for boys and girls, schools for feeble-minded, etc, the state has employed a full-time dietician to study the rations being served, and recommend new menus, if necessary.

Miss Ilma Lucas, formerly dietician for one of the leading hospitals in New York, is the expert who is making this study.

"She has already more than paid her salary through the reduction of waste in the kitchens of various institutions," Jensen reported.

Substituting rolls for sliced bread has already served to eliminate waste bread to a very high degree. One trial of these rolls at Mendocino state hospital showing a saving of 50 per cent in flour.

"Canned willie," the toothsome delicacy that helped America's doughboys win the war, is also being used effectively as a substitute for fresh beef in preparing hash and similar dishes. Canned corned beef was found to be equally as wholesome, and to provide between 36 and 40 per cent more meals than fresh beef, because of its freedom from waste.

The cafeteria system, which Jensen found in use with great success in Massachusetts, is gradually being adopted in California's institutions. A cafeteria unit is being added to the new hospital for the violently insane, at Mendocino state hospital.

"It's surprising how these violently insane persons adapt themselves to the cafeteria system," Jensen said. "In Massachusetts they line up, quietly take their trays, knives and forks, and march along the counter, selecting the food they want with little disturbance."

This "cash and carry" system of feeding is also now in use at Whittier state school for boys for the first time, and for employes at Patton and Agnews state hospitals.

Should the cafeteria plan be found as successful in this state as in Massachusetts, it will eventually be extended to all institutions, according to Jensen.

LA HABRA

LA HABRA, May 4—Mr. and Mrs. Everett Sahmberger have returned from a short visit at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Gray in Indio.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Tacker were guests Tuesday evening at the G. L. Gordon home.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Camp were among those to hear Paderewski Tuesday evening in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Edith Scott, widow of John Scott, was a guest at the F. D. McFadden home Tuesday. Mrs. Scott is employed as head nurse at the Rest Haven sanitarium near Artesia.

Mrs. John W. Wardrip, of St. Louis, is a guest of her son, S. O. Wardrip. She will make an indefinite stay.

La Habra's grammar school band, consisting of 60 pupils, will make its first out of town appearance May 10 at Santa Ana, where they will take part in a musical program. The members of the band will wear their white uniforms with red ties.

UNMARRIED WOMEN IN NEW SOCIETY

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, May 4.—The Circle of Sisterhood—an organization of unmarried women and widows, has been organized in Sioux City to "help young girls entering the business world, share happiness, console in sorrow, assist in trouble and, at the end of life's journey, to lend a sister's hand; to establish fraternity home and state and national homes for the aged, to outline trips for vacation time; to provide for holiday time for those who have no home and to be all that the name 'sister' implies at home or while traveling."

The new organization is national in scope, and is the first widespread effort on the part of unmarried women to band themselves together for social and protective purposes.

Maude Eleen Lynch, public entertainer, is responsible for the new order, and has been active in getting it started. Dr. Georgia Bernard Brown of Sioux City was chosen first national president.

Organization work will be spread to all parts of the country. Fifty members will compose each chapter, but there will be no limit to the numer of chapters there may be in a city. All chapters will affiliate directly with the national organization.

Marriage will automatically terminate membership in the Circle of Sisterhood, because, the organizers declare, the married woman has a provider and protector, and is not in need of the services of the circle. "Let it be understood, however, that the circle is not opposed to marriage," officers declared. "We realize that a happy home and children is the crowning glory of womanhood."

Any unmarried woman whose vocation is respectable and whose character is good, is eligible to membership.

Bananas Become Popular Staple

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 4.—That the lowly banana is fast becoming recognized as a household necessity was indicated by a statement made here recently by Victor F. Cutter, president of the United Fruit company.

Cutter paid a visit to the New Orleans holdings of his concern before departing for Cuba, Honduras and other parts of the tropics where United Fruit owns large sugar and banana plantations.

The banana business is steadily increasing, according to Cutter. Last year the United Fruit did the biggest banana business in its history and expect the volume of business in 1928 to exceed all previous records.

Cutter declared his company was spending $5,000,000 annually on new plantations and shipping equipment to take care of the banana business.

The United Fruit operates 30 fruit boats between New Orleans and Central American ports and this number is being augmented as business demands.

Market News

NEW YORK STOCKS

(By The Wall Street Journal)

NEW YORK, May 4.—Tremendous buying of General Motors today which carried the issue nearly ten points higher to a new record top, brought urgent short covering and fresh buying into the stock market.

Continuance of the local bank rate at 4 per cent and relative increases in the brokerage loans reported last night accounted for the extreme buoyancy of the list.

Oils, however, for the most part failed to participate in the upward movement.

Strong leadership was furnished by American Telegraph & Telephone, American Can, and Chrysler, all of which sold at new peaks, while sensational advances were scored by the airplane and several of the utilities.

Rails were strong under the leadership of Missouri Pacific.

ARE WE DUE FOR A POLITICAL UPHEAVAL?

The editor of the Christian Century, published in Chicago, thinks we are. He has been canvassing his acquaintances and his friends, and he finds them pretty well disgusted with the present political situation. It is a situation not unlike that which existed when Grant was coming to the end of his second term. The older people still among us, and those who have read their histories, do see a great similarity between that time and this. We know now that the upheaval which almost landed Tilden in the presidency and gave the country a Democratic Congress for the first time since the Civil War was the result of just such exposures of corruption as are going on now.

Whether this be so or not, the time has come when those who are aspiring for high office should do something more than utter pretty platitudes. What are the candidates saying about prohibition? Practically nothing, except as they are forced to say something. Even Al Smith who was quite voluble on that question, on the wrong side, some time ago, is discreetly silent. What are the candidates saying about relief for the farmer? Some are ducking the matter altogether, while others are merely saying that the farmer is having a hard time. What are they saying about our foreign relations—a subject never so vital as it is now when our loans are going out to all the countries of the world, and when the world has become a great neighborhood, where disturbances affect us as intimately as a nuisance in the next street? If anybody knows where the leading candidates of both parties stand, we should like to have them point it out.

Corresponding with men about the country, we cannot but note the dissatisfaction with things as they are, and a resolve in many quarters to strike out blindly at something. Many voters do not know just what to do. There is no need to gloss over the situation. We cannot play the ostrich trick and think it is not there because we will not look at it. In the interest of good government, in the interest of democracy, in the interest of all the people of the country and not any one section of the people, we ought to know where our leaders stand. We do not now know. They are all following the example of the politician who was pressing through the crowd, shouting, "Get out of the way; there are the people ahead; I am their leader, and I must catch up with them."

We have no remedy for all the problems of our national life. But the least we can do is to recognize them, and to get our heads together and move in some direction. To stand still is fatal. Unless the leaders move, the crowd will move. And we never know what will happen when the crowd moves. The Populist movement, the Greenback movement, the Non-partisan league movement, the Free Silver movement, and all the rest are simply the outbreaks of the common people who are tired of politicians who are all dressed up and have no place to go.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES IN INDUSTRIAL ESTABLISHMENTS

The Department of Labor in Washington has issued a most informing bulletin on things being done to make the life of the industrial worker in larger establishments more interesting and happy. In the days of small shops in the open country, when there was an intimacy between employer and employee, and opportunities to play baseball in the open lot, and fish, and boat, and hunt were in the immediate vicinity, there was little need for the health and recreational facilities for the workers. The delightful life which Dickens described in his American Notes after his visit to the mills in Lowell, Mass., and other places, has passed out from American industry. The great factories look like so many prisons, and when the people leave them after the day's work they retire to congested regions where life is quite as drab and oppressive.

The large corporations are meeting this change with health and recreational facilities which in a measure compensate for the social losses of big industry. In this bulletin we have accounts of medical and hospital service for employees, sick leave and vacation leave with pay, lunch rooms where the worker may obtain nourishing food well served as cheaply as in his own home, indoor and outdoor provisions for recreation, disability funds, group insurance and education. There is every indication that these activities have a tendency to relieve the monotony of the daily toil, and make the lot of the worker somewhat more tolerable.

Of course, there is some growling on the part of the worker at times against this so-called welfare work. He knows that he is paying for it all by his labor, and he thinks it would be better if the money thus expended might be put in his pay envelope. Still it is highly improbable that, either individually or co-operatively, he could do this necessary work as well as it is being done. One only need visit the club room that the average workman establishes when he initiates this work himself, to note how poor and trivial and drab his own efforts in this direction are.

The employer, however, who hopes to cover up exploitation of his workers by this sort of thing, is doomed to disillusionment. A gymnasium, or a club room, or a lunch room cannot take the place of a just return for a man's labor and a respect for his personality and individuality. The first he should do; the second he should not leave undone.

This bulletin of the U. S. Department of Labor ought to be in the hands of every employer of labor. He will find it full of suggestions. From the experience of others he may learn a great deal that is worth while for himself and for his help.

OF MAKING LAWS THERE IS NO END

At the last session of the various legislatures 20424 new laws were passed. Of this number, California inflicted upon a long suffering people just 898.

It is an old established principle of the law that "Ignorance of the law is no excuse." In other words, if anyone violates one of these laws he is held accountable even though by no possibility could he have known that such a law was on the statute books.

It cannot be otherwise because it is impossible to tell whether a man did or did not know the law, and it would open the door for any amount of perjury and escape from punishment. Fortunately, the lawyer is not held for damages by his client if he does not know the latest law or decision, but the layman must suffer.

What is the answer to all this law making? No one knows, but we may offer a few suggestions. There are many obsolete or useless laws now on the statute books, which should be repealed. This would at least lessen the number a citizen would be accountable for.

The principles of the common law already a part of the law of this state, cover probably a majority if not all of the laws recently passed, and would be administered by the courts were there no specific statute on the particular subject.

The attitude of the public is that, any slightly new situation or set of circumstances arising, they will say "a law should be passed," or "let's pass a law," and this without knowing what the law already is. We complain of the multiplicity of laws but when our particular ox is gored, we want another one. This attitude is reflected on the legislators. They want to show that they are "on the job" and will introduce almost any bill which a responsible group of constituents will propose. Let us have legislators who can say "no."

REWARDS FOR GOOD DICTION

Otis Skinner, the actor, was presented a gold medal for good diction on the stage, by the American Academy of Arts and Letters at the regular annual meeting of that organization held in New York the other day.

In his speech in response to the presentation Mr. Skinner called attention to the fact that the motion picture does not aid diction because it presents a continual flow of words and ideas without correlating the enunciation.

The general public probably little realizes the stress and painstaking labor schools of dramatics and all good actors place on pronunciation. In fact at times people are annoyed when they attend the theater because they themselves are so unaccustomed to correct pronunciation that they don't easily comprehend what is being said. Slipshod enunciation and slangy diction are so much the custom that anything else is unreal and revivals of old plays when the English tongue was not so dialectic are scarcely understandable.

The same organization also voted to award a medal for good diction over the radio. It is doubtful whether a gold medal will inspire the amount of effort for good diction that the exigencies of the situation demand. An organization or organizations banding together and offering say $10,000 award for the best diction over the radio might be more efficacious and fitting.

Helen Marie has pretty feet. But then, almost all girls have. New shoes are a great delight to this child and on every high day when gifts are in order, Helen asks for shoes. She has a fine collection of them now—silk and silver and alligator and patent leather and tan and black they stand on the shelves. And oh, the shape of them. The heels and toes of them.

"You surely are not going to walk down the street in those shoes," says mother, plainly annoyed.

"Why mother, they are perfectly comfortable. Just because you cannot wear them doesn't say I can't. I love them."

"I not only couldn't wear them, I wouldn't wear them. You can't tell me that your foot is perfectly comfortable set up on a spike four and five inches high. You're going to have sore feet. That's what all this shoe business is going to do for you. If you'll take my advice you'll change your shoes. Put on your flat heeled oxfords. Then you can cross the street without walking on your ankle bones."

"Now mother, don't be dumb. How could I wear those ugly things? Any way I tell you I'm perfectly comfortable."

She wore the shoes. She was going to sell flowers at a matinee benefit for the crippled children. Didn't she have to look dainty and stylish and attractive and, and,—. Of course. Walking on a city street in shoes with paper-like soles and heels like spikes is not easy. But pride feels no pain and Helen Marie staggered on, her ankle bones now and then scraping the stones just as mother suggested they would.

At Main street the traffic was bad. The matinee had brought out all the cars in town and they were crowding this avenue. Helen Marie started across and a car whizzed round the corner, as cars do.

"Oh my," squeaked Helen Marie, darting back toward the curb.

"Where do you think you're going? growled the officer as Helen bumped into him. She jumped again as another car flashed by, then started across the street, her heels twisting and turning at every step, the mud well splashed over instep and stocking leg.

She reached the theater breathless and hobbling. "Dear me, Helen Marie," said old Mrs. Smith, patroness in chief, and SO stylish. "How did it happen that you walked in such slippers as those? Come to the dressing room, I'll fit you out with an old pair one of the girls left there. Your's are ruined."

And Helen either had to wear a scrubbed pair of black oxfords or go home. She went home in the oxfords carrying the high heels under her arm. She cried for a while. Then she bathed her bruised and aching feet, put on a pair of old slippers and took a book.

"How did I know that the streets would be like that?" said she. Mother said nothing. The shoes had spoken for themselves.

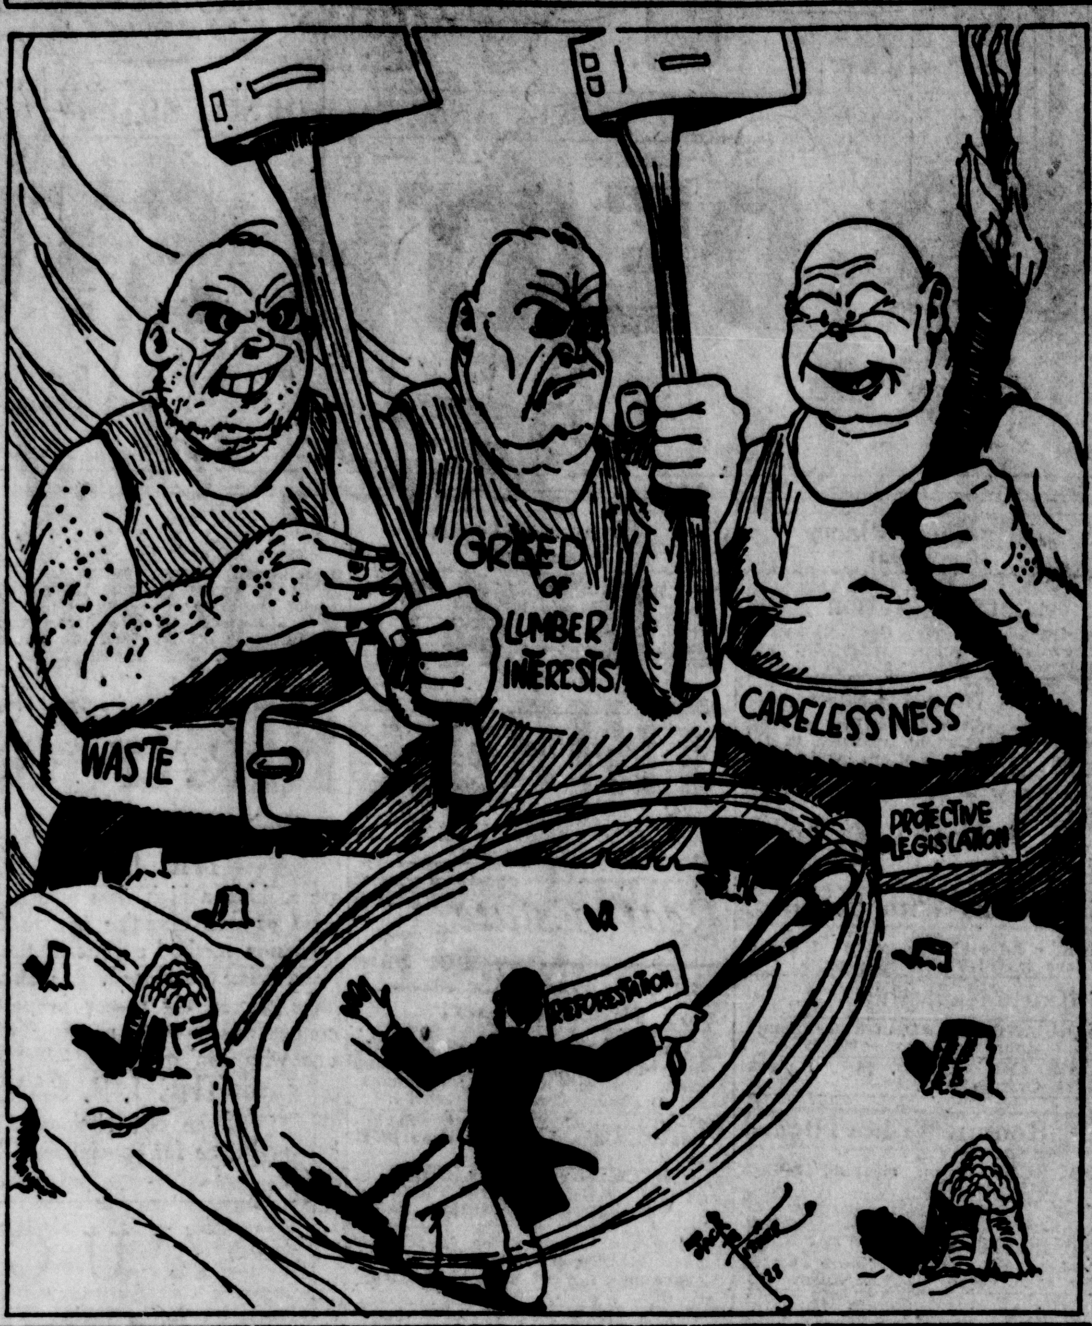
Lots of Ammunition Needed!



More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

THE BROKEN PLANET

I know the sun may burst its disc
  Some not far future day
But placidly I take that risk
  As I pursue my way.
I can't allow vain idle fears
  To get me all upset,
It's been up there a billion years
  And hasn't smashed up yet.

But when a planet breaks in two
  As one just has, I learn,
There are contingencies I view
  With very real concern.
Suppose one half should disappear
  And start out comet wise
Upon a swift and mad career
  About the starry skies!

The stars eternally will roll
  Above the heads of men
As long as they are sound and whole
  But if they split—what then?
Will not the fragments go astray
  As derelicts will do
And possibly proceed this way
  And cleave our world in two!

Of nights I do not like to think
  Of half-stars, poised aloof
Which any time may land kerplink!
  Upon my cottage roof.
That shattered orb may do no harm
  But frankly I admit
I cannot think, without alarm
  That it is up there, split.

WHY ACCIDENTS HAPPEN

Dr. Crane's Friendly Talk

By Dr. Frank Crane

NARCOTIC DRUGS

I have heard somewhere that a test of insanity patients for their mental soundness is as follows:

The patient is placed in a chamber and water is turned on from a faucet. He is given a mop and pail. If he tries to mop up the water and squeeze it into the pail he is insane, but if he has sense enough to turn off the tap he is sane.

The only way to control narcotic drugs is at the source. You simply have to quit raising an abnormal supply of the materials from which these drugs are made.

Efforts to control the use of narcotics by preventing smuggling and by educating the people not to use them are inefficient.

It is like mopping up the water by an insane patient.

When people got tired of attempting to control the drink evil by the "regulating" of saloons and the liquor traffic, they decided to put a stop to its manufacture and sale. The only thing that interferes with the success of this plan at present is that a large part of the world today continues to manufacture it.

The only argument against state-wide prohibition instead of nation wide is that there is no way to control the influx of liquor from wet states into the dry ones. The supply has to be cut off before anything can be done about it.

The public health service says that there are 100 drug addicts in the United States and about 420,000 ounces of drugs are consumed annually. These are for the most part smuggled through New York, although some get in through the Mexican border. Most of the opium is smuggled through Seattle.

The importer sells to wholesale dealers for as low as $11.00 an ounce, but the addict is required to pay $475.00 an ounce, which he purchases in one-grain capsules at $1.00 each.

Whatever the League of Nations is good for or not good for, it ought to function in some way so as to prevent raising opium beyond what is needed for legitimate medical supplies in any part of the world. As long as it is grown anywhere it can be smuggled into this country.

The lure of extravagant gains motivates the smuggler, just as it furnishes a motive for the bootlegger. The only way to stop these gains effectually is to stop the supply of material.

Let us quit trying to mop up the water which is constantly flowing from the tap and let us turn off the tap.

The traffic in narcotics and quack medicines is about the most nefarious business in which human beings can engage. It is using men's weakness and depravity as a means for making money. Whatever else the Government does it should stop that.

Thoughts On Modern Life

THE AUTOMAT COMES OF AGE

Man steadily gives way to the machine.

Thirty years ago the first automatic selling machine made its appearance in the United States—a simple slot machine into which the buyer dropped a penny and from which he received a stick of gum.

For a long while the automatic selling machine was a device that functioned outside the main avenues of trade, in railway stations and on subway platforms, picking up stray pennies that might not otherwise find their way into shops and stores.

But there are signs that the automatic selling machine is about to come of age.

Its mechanism is being perfected—there has been invented recently a change-making attachment that makes it unnecessary for the buyer to have the exact coin called for by the purchase; he may drop a coin of any denomination into the slot and receive the correct change along with the article carried in that compartment.

The prophets of the automat are even planning, rather wistfully, to humanize it—before long a tiny phonograph record may say an ingratiating "thank you" as your correct change clatters into the cup.

Two factors are making for this increased use of the automatic selling machine, viz:

First, the increasing standardization of the smaller and more commonly used articles annually increases the number of articles that can be sold through coin-slot machines.

Second, the increasing effort that is being made to lower the costs of distribution is suggesting the rapid extension of automatic sales devices.

In an engaging discussion of this problem in the April issue of The American Druggist—in which the automat drug store that will sell you your tooth-paste, razor blades, soaps, cigarettes, powders, and standard medicines through coin-slot machines is predicted—it is asserted that one great chain of cigar stores estimates that [illegible] per cent of the time of its clerks is spent on automatic functions that a machine could perform just as well, and that 30 of its articles are so well known that they require no salesmanship.

In the thoroughly efficient store of the future, all standardized, well-known, and commonly used articles will be sold through machines, and human ingenuity will be used only where salesmanship is really needed.

Three possible results of this development interest me, viz:

First, it will free that large part of the salesman's time now spent on the routine administration of selling for the larger business of the extension of sales.

Second, it will tend to convert the salesman from a mere bundle wrapper into a counsellor in consumption, thus lending a new significance and dignity to the job.

Third, it will be an inestimable boon to the small retail merchant, for he will be able to conduct a larger business with a smaller staff.

A Desert Park?

Oakland Tribune

When California makes the fullest use of its abundant water possibilities, it may be a difficult matter to discover any desert area within the state. There are many who would not like to see the desert disappear, who would preserve for the future enough to carry on the beauty, mystery and appeal which can be found nowhere else.

The finest thing about this plan to make a park of some of the desert land is, as Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur says, "that you can do so much for nothing." About all that is required is the designation of now useless land as a state park. No one asks that grandstands and dance pavilions be erected; no one would add any of the "modern improvements" and park concessions.

For those who know the colors and moods of the desert and those who would there study botany, a desert park means keeping the desert as it is. William E. Colby, chairman of the State Park commission, says that if any part of the weird and langorous desert is to be preserved immediate action is necessary. Campers and prospectors have been cutting down the Joshua tree, people go out with motor trucks for the cactus plant. The waste lands are being attacked on all sides. A desert park would serve to emphasize for all time the diversity of California scenery, would preserve the native desert plants, and would give to desert lovers a retreat safeguarded from those who would take away everything that is movable.

What Good Thing Has Been Done In Nicaragua?

Sacramento Bee

In response to a resolution introduced by Senator Blaine, Progressive Republican of Wisconsin, Secretary Wilbur was compelled to submit to the senate a detailed figure relative to the costs of and the results of President Coolidge's war in Nicaragua.

It appears from this statement that the money cost since May 4, 1927, has been $3,586,000.

Twenty-one American soldiers also have been killed and forty-four injured. On the other side, Wilbur admits 302 Nicaraguans have been sent to their deaths, and he confesses there may have been others.

Several hundred more have been wounded, including one woman and two children, while many houses have been burned in order to prevent their use by the forces of Sandino.

And what has it profited this country?

What have we got in return for the expenditure of this $3,000,000, this shedding of blood of hundreds of people?

Can a single life or a single bit of property be regarded as having been saved by our marines?

A high medical officer in the service there does not think so. In tendering his resignation recently to the navy department, he declared he could not stomach the administration war in Nicaragua, where, he said, he had been unable to learn there had been the slightest danger to life or property before the coming of the marines.

Sky Views Different

Riverside Enterprise

What town is this?

That is the serious question for aviators flying over the country, according to Will Rogers.

It seems that towns are hard to recognize from above. One who sees the excellent photographs that were recently taken from above Riverside, can well appreciate the fact.

One of these pictures, shown to a large number of persons, could not be identified by any of them. They knew that it was Riverside, because they were told so but none could tell what part of the city had been selected to photograph, although it was one which all would be perfectly familiar with from a ground view.

Identification of cities with their names on the roofs of large buildings or on airport sites, will be an important bit of advertising for the future. The earlier it is done by all the cities, the better it will be for aviation in general.
